

139

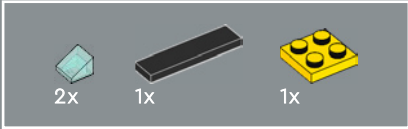

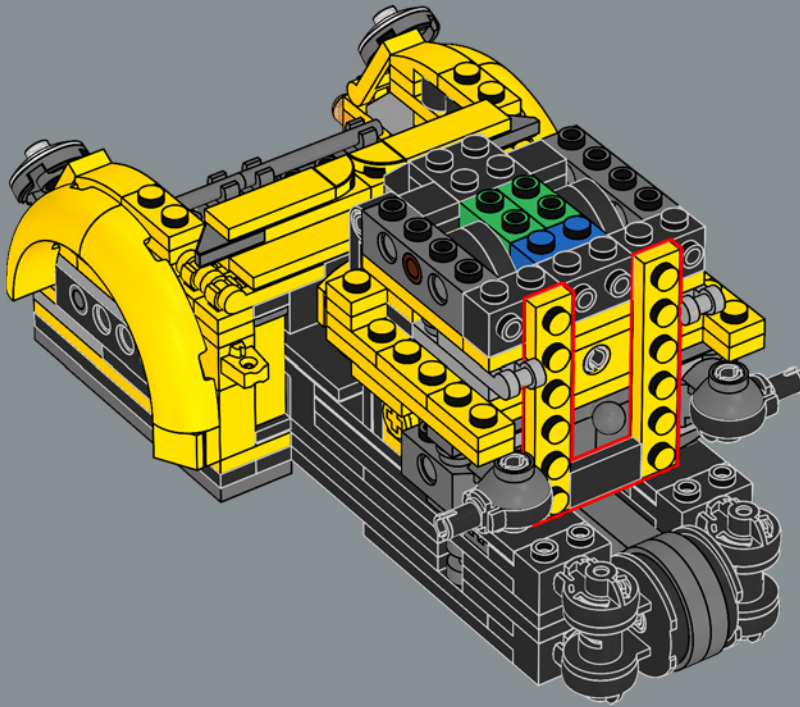

140

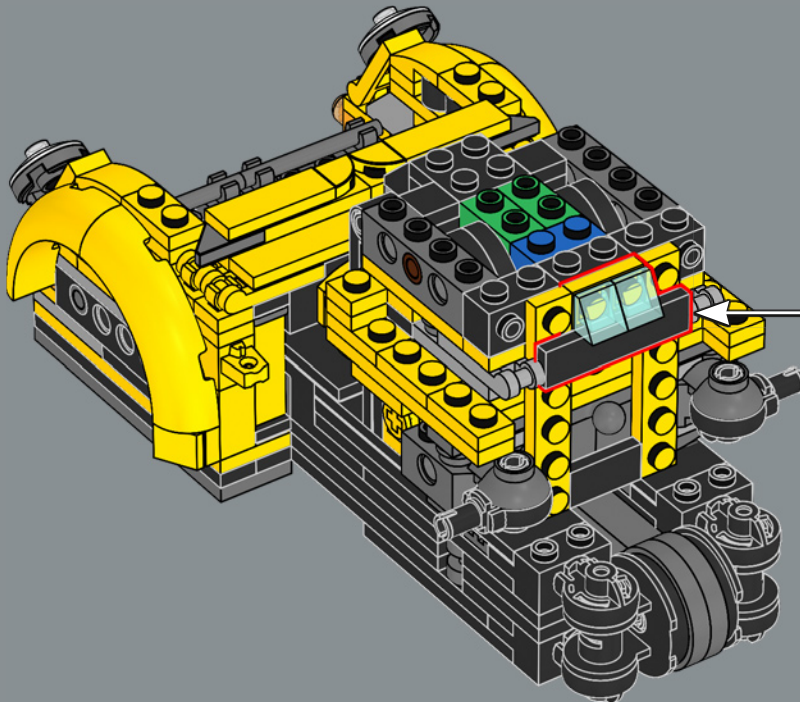

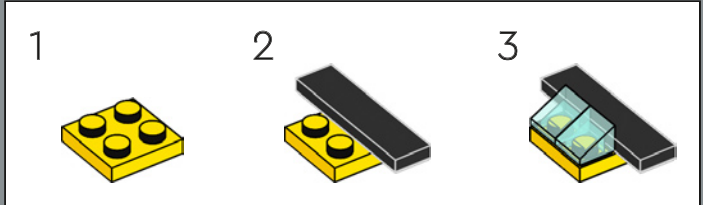

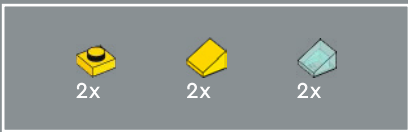

141

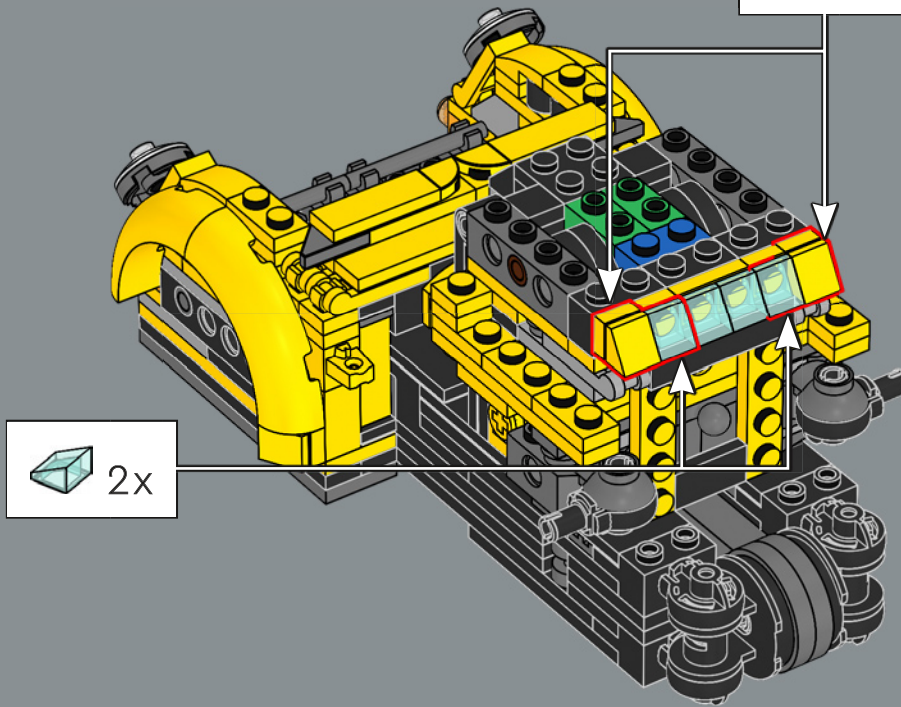

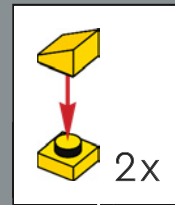

142

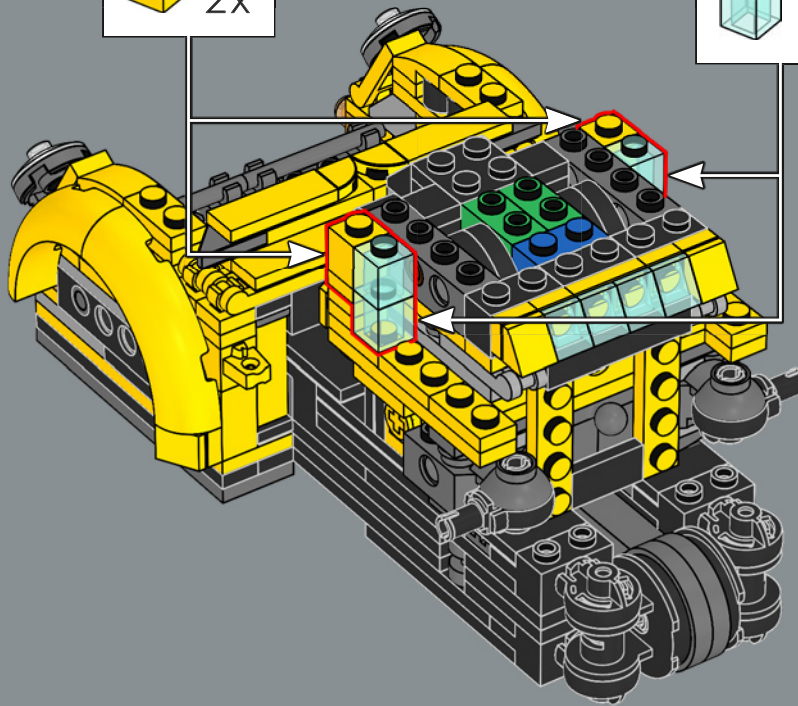

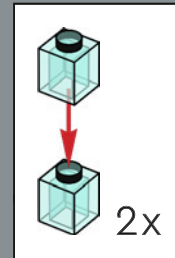

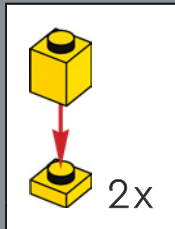

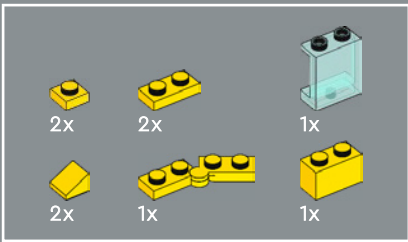

143

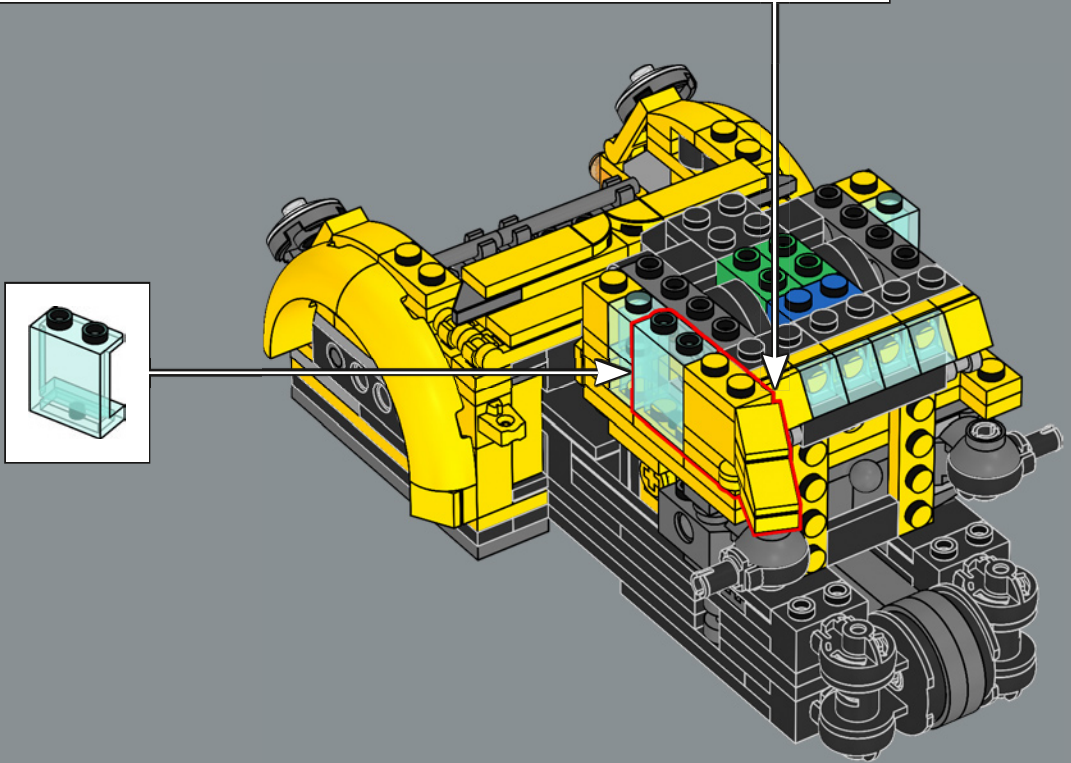

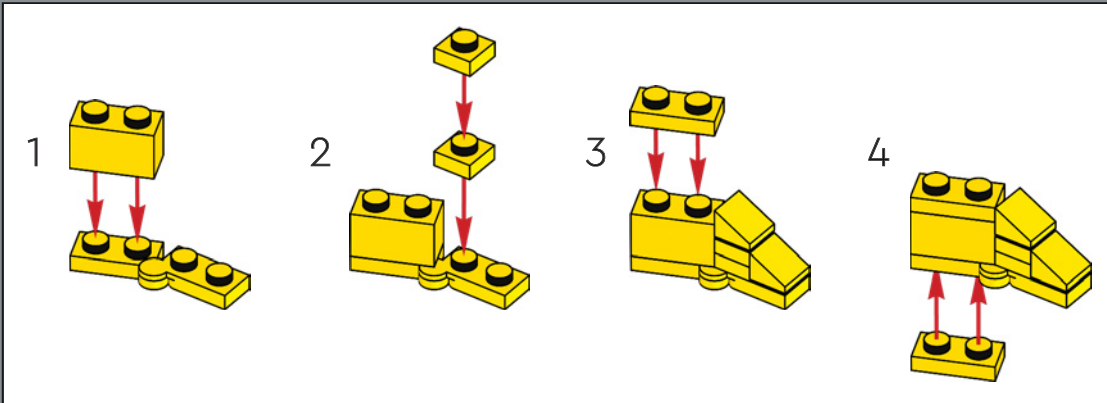

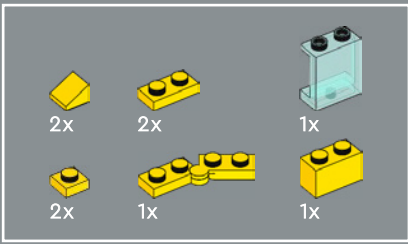

144

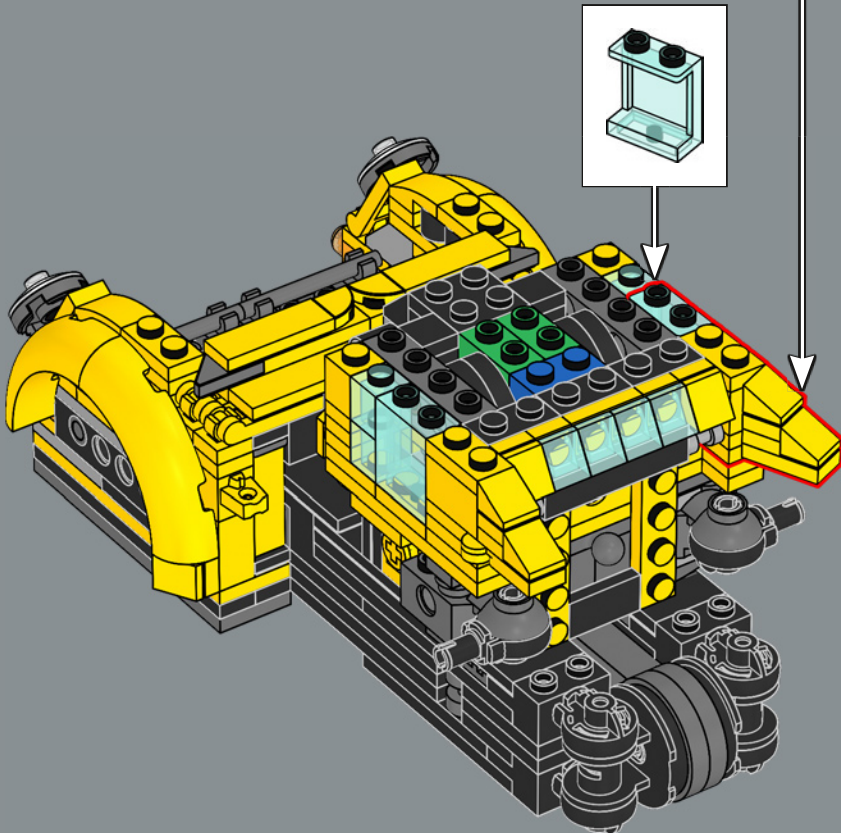

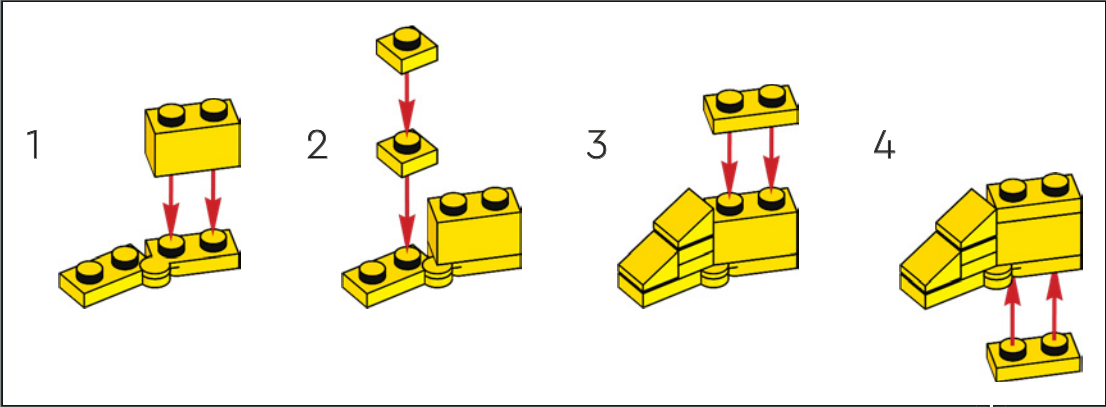

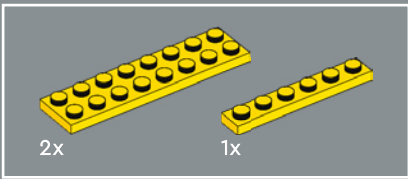

145

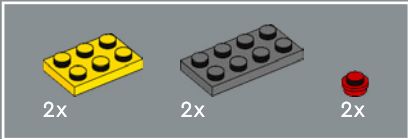

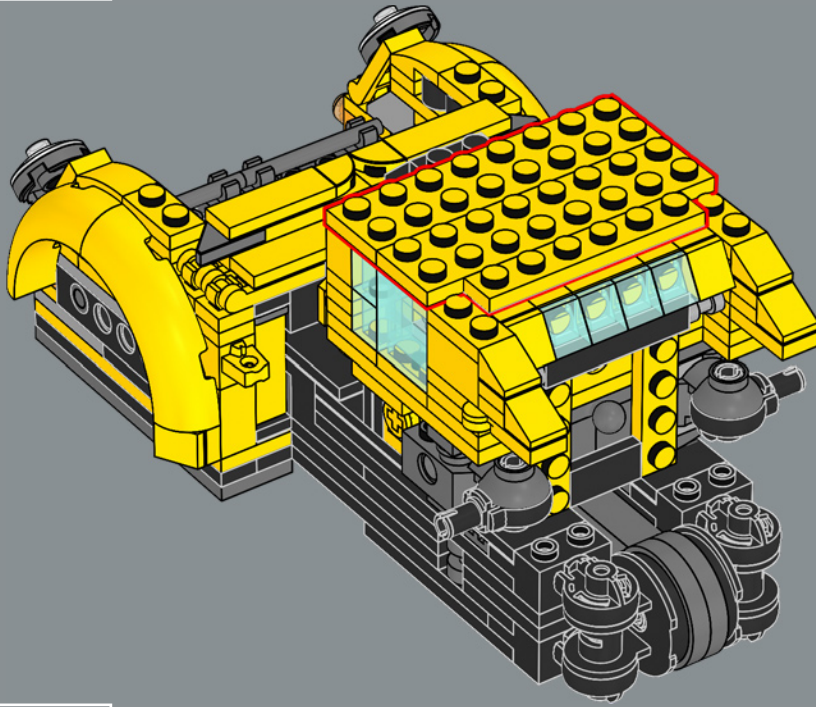

146

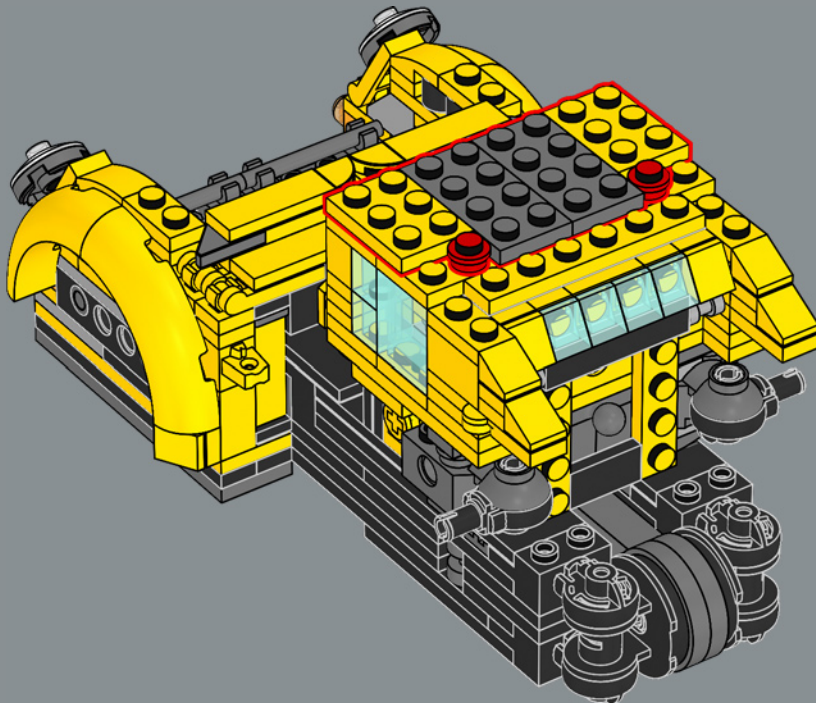

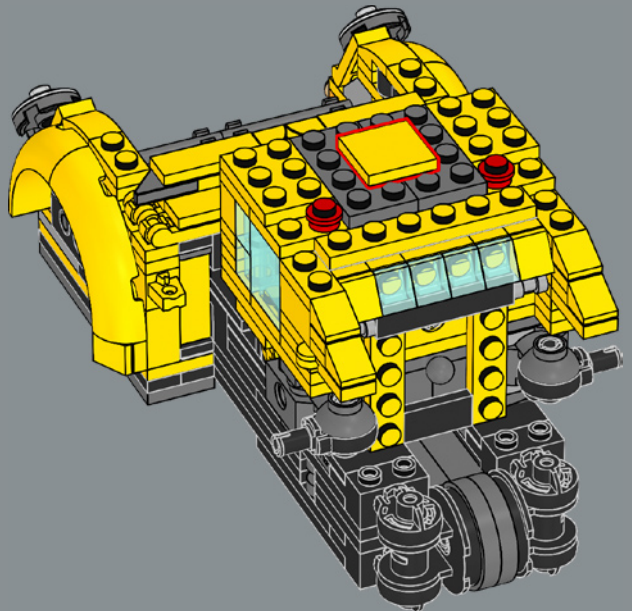

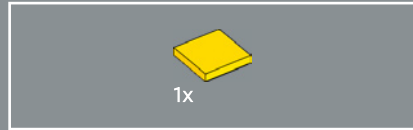

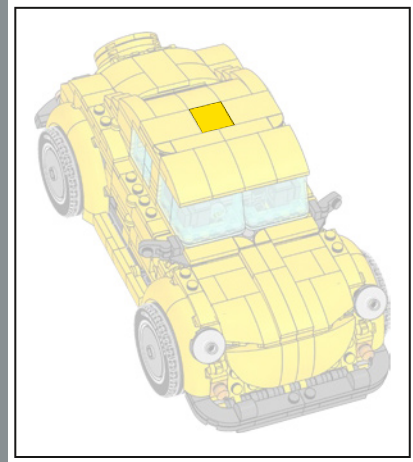

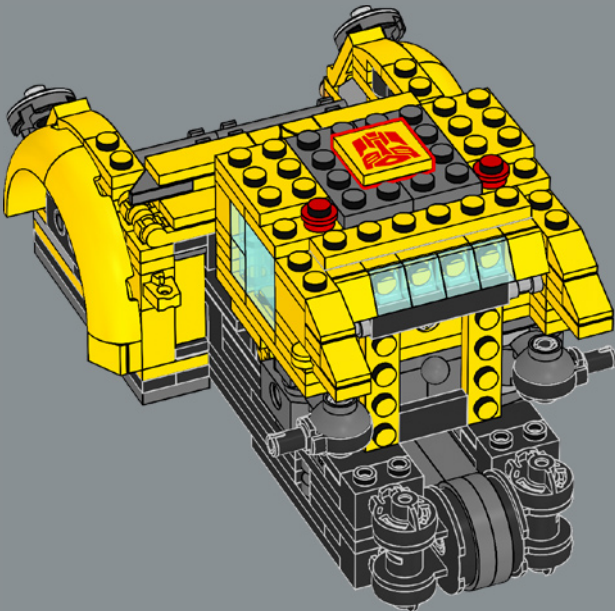

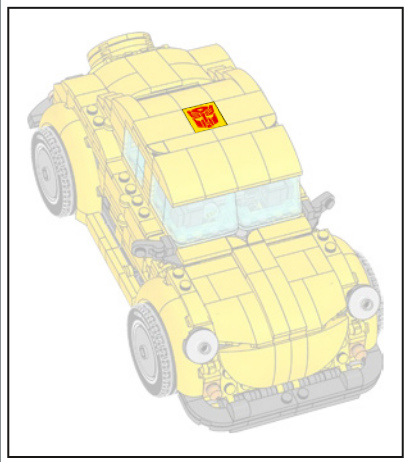

147

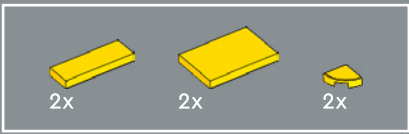

148

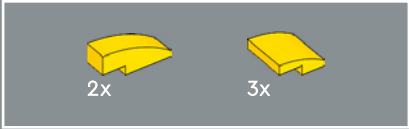

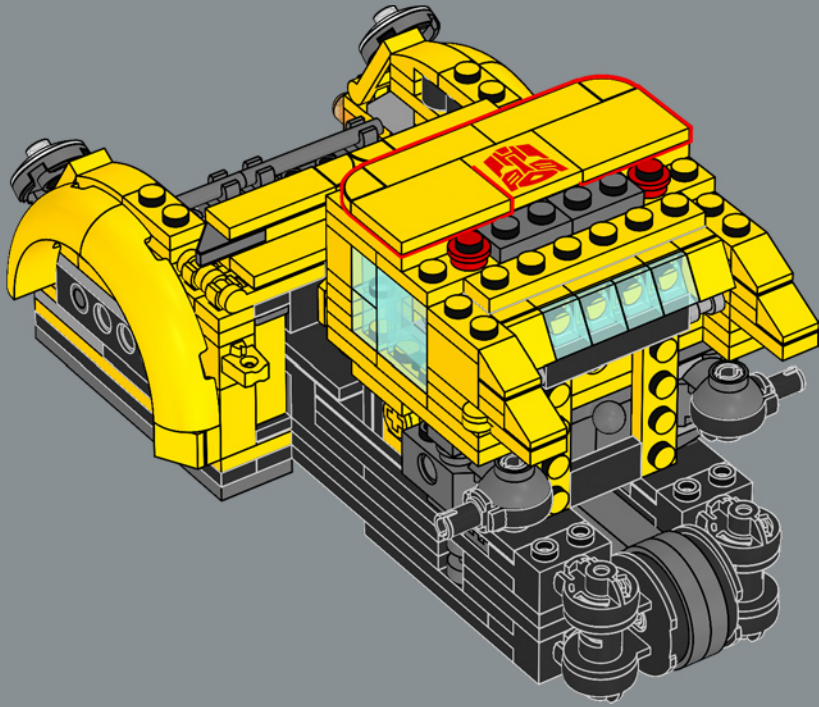

A new 2x2 decorated yellow tile has the iconic AUTOBOT insignia denoting the allegiance during the war against the evil Decepticons.

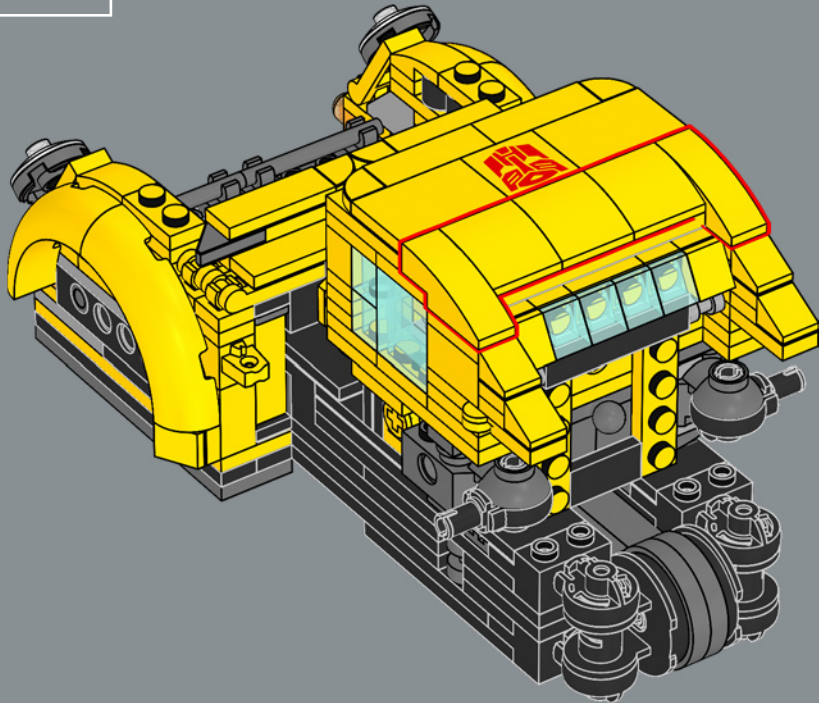

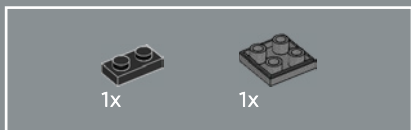

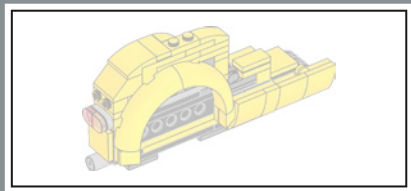

150

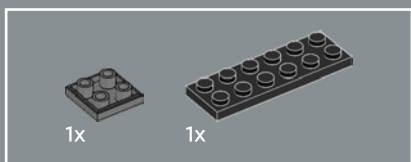

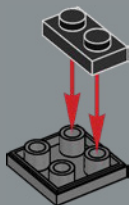

151

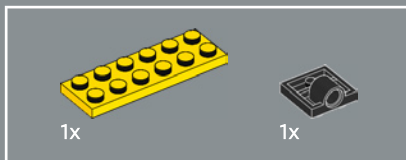

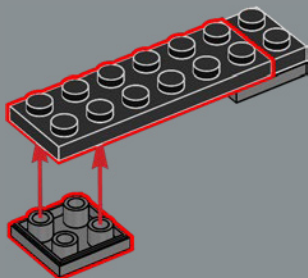

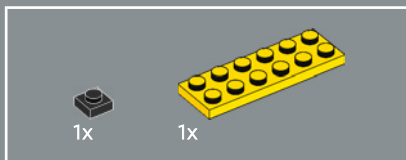

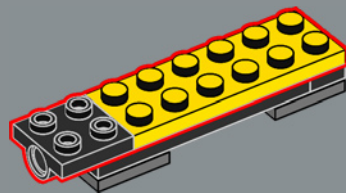

152

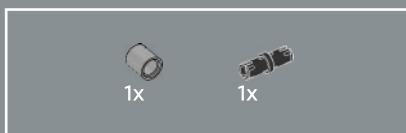

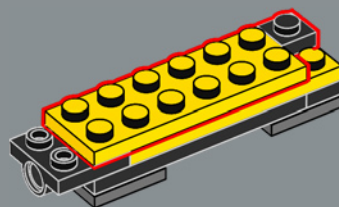

153

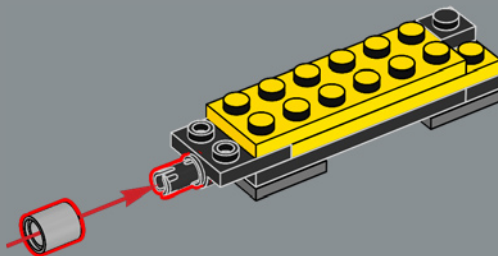

154

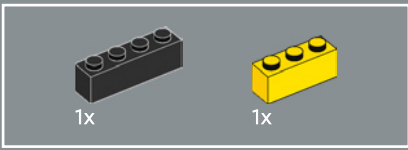

155

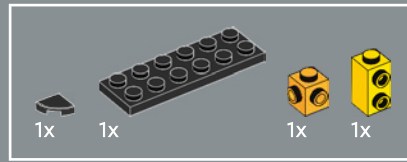

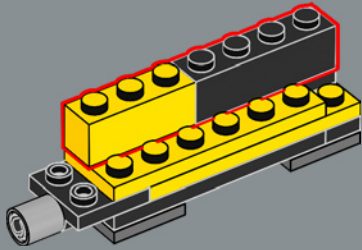

156

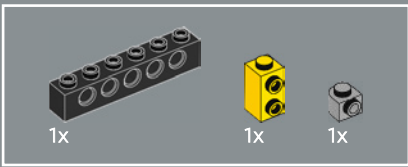

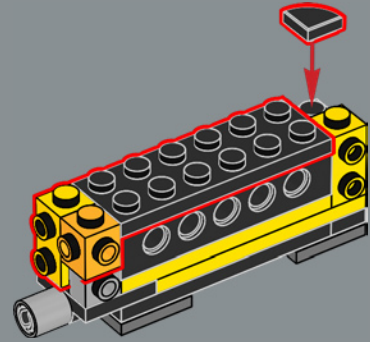

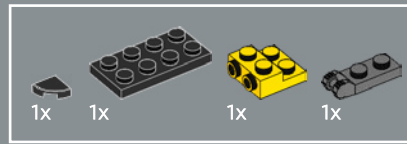

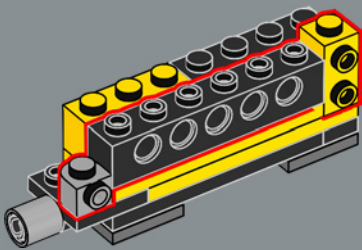

157

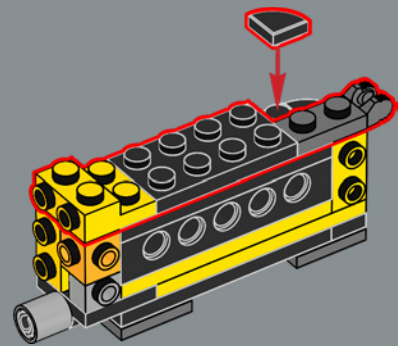

159

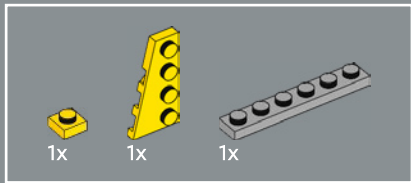

158

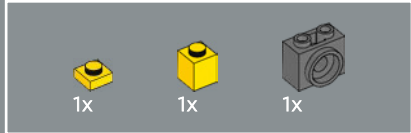

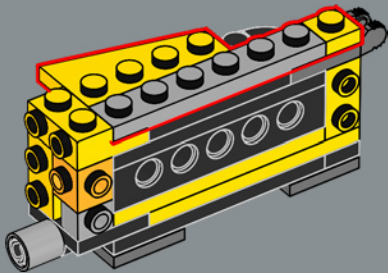

160

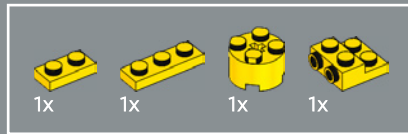

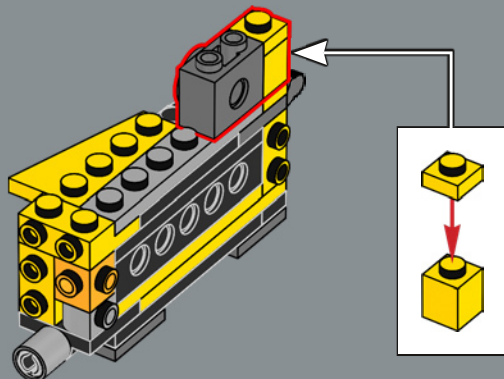

161

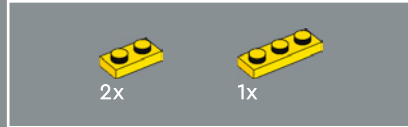

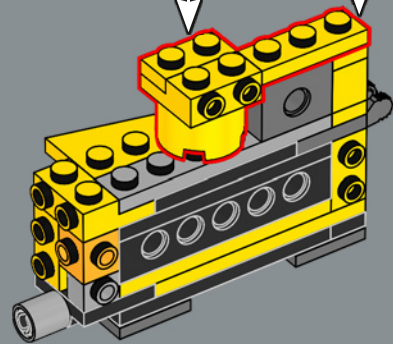

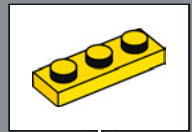

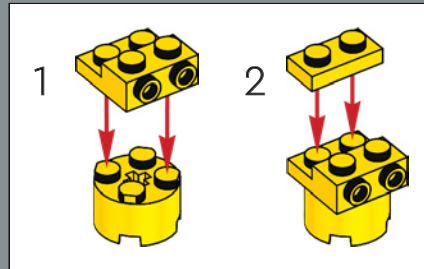

162

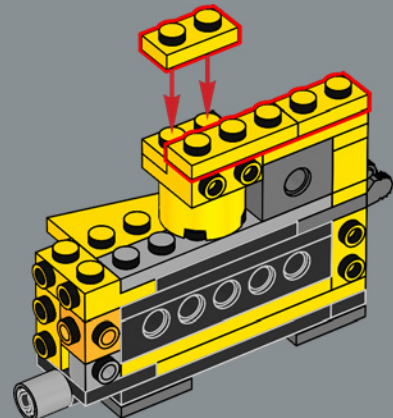

This piece used for the arm build was first developed to be used in the LEGO® Optimus Prime 10302 set.

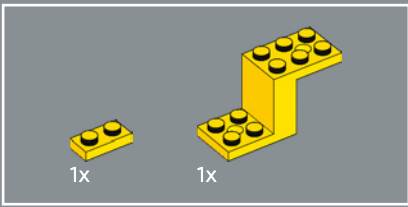

163

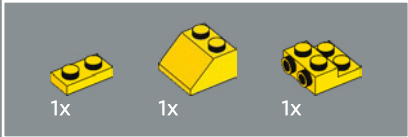

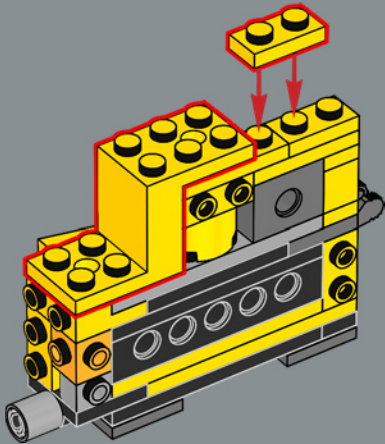

164

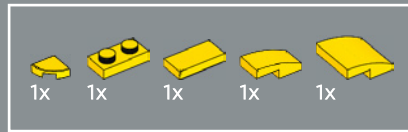

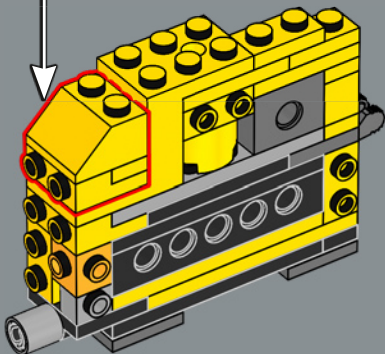

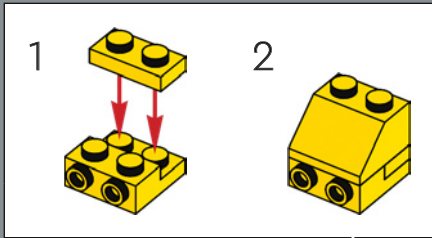

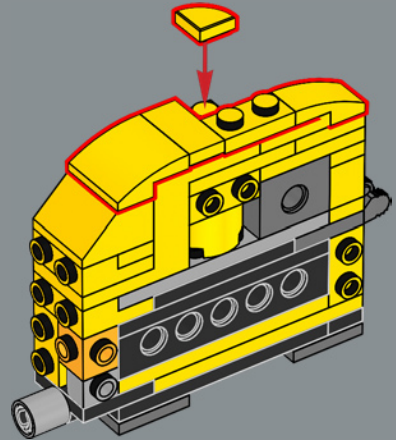

165

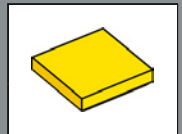

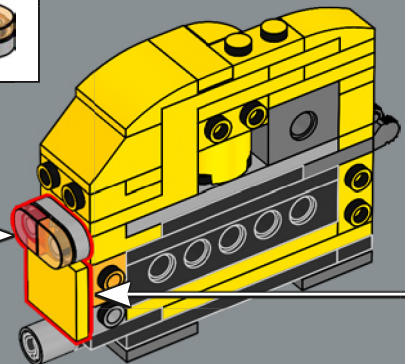

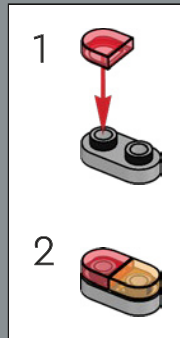

166

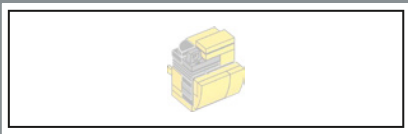

167

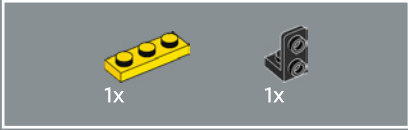

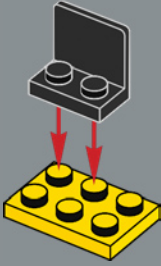

168

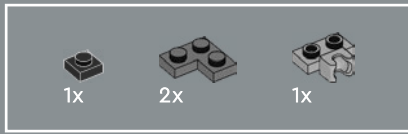

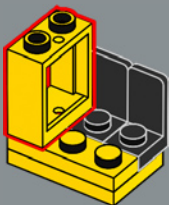

169

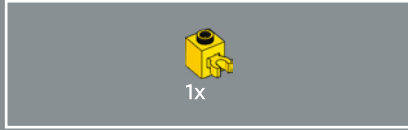

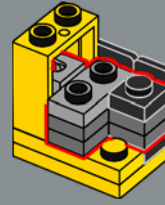

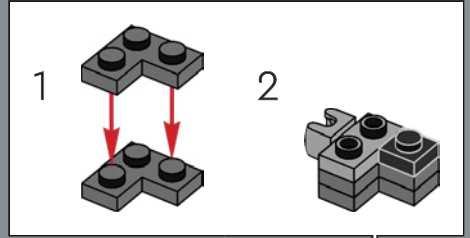

170

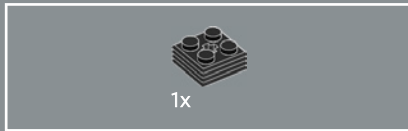

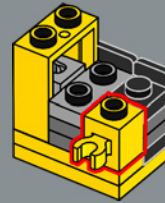

171

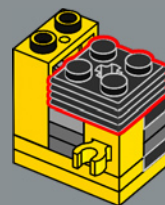

172

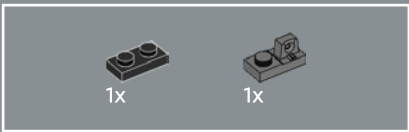

173

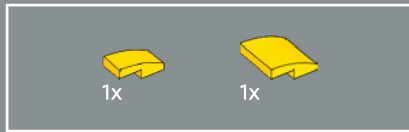

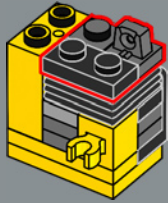

174

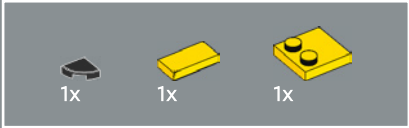

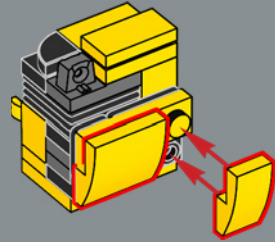

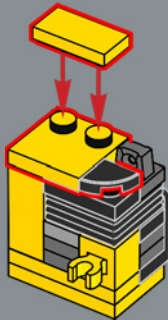

175

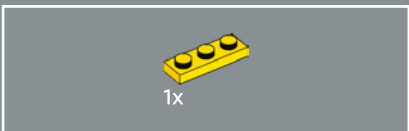

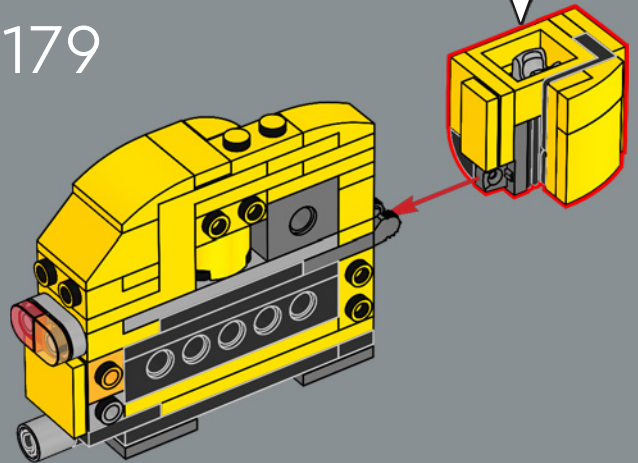

178

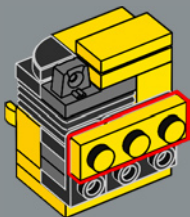

176

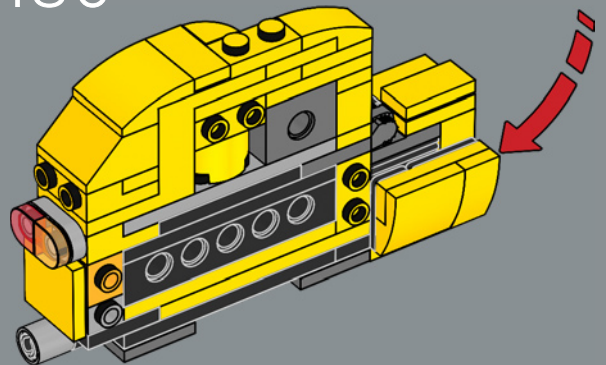

179

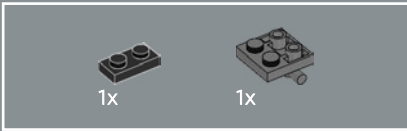

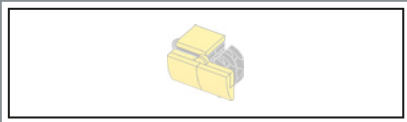

177

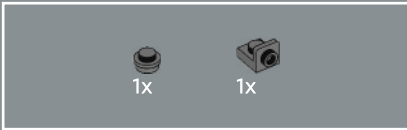

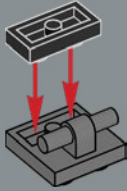

180

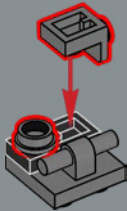

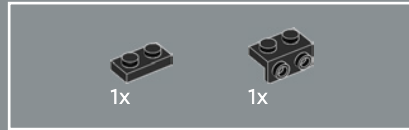

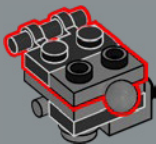

181

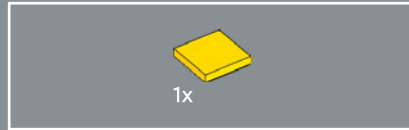

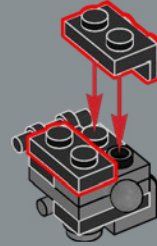

182

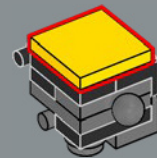

183

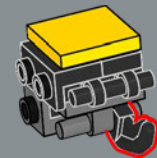

184

185

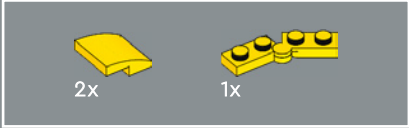

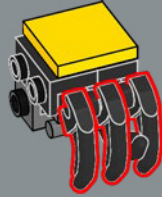

186

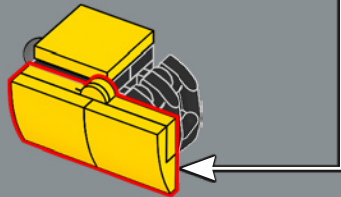

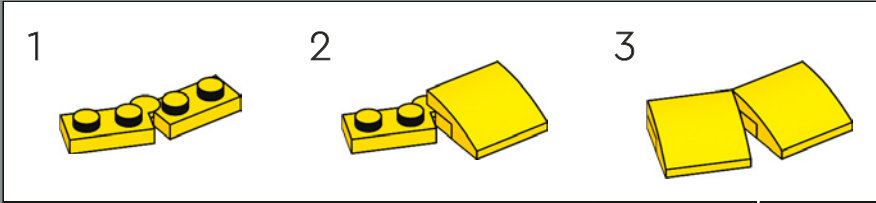

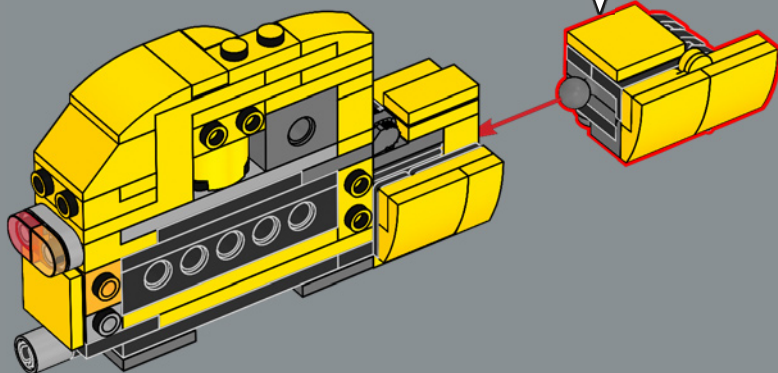

187

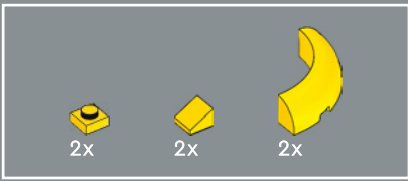

188

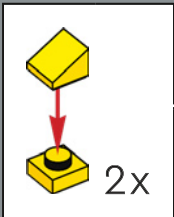

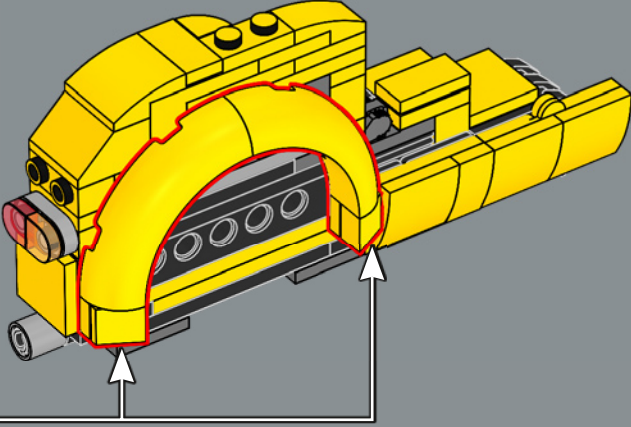

189

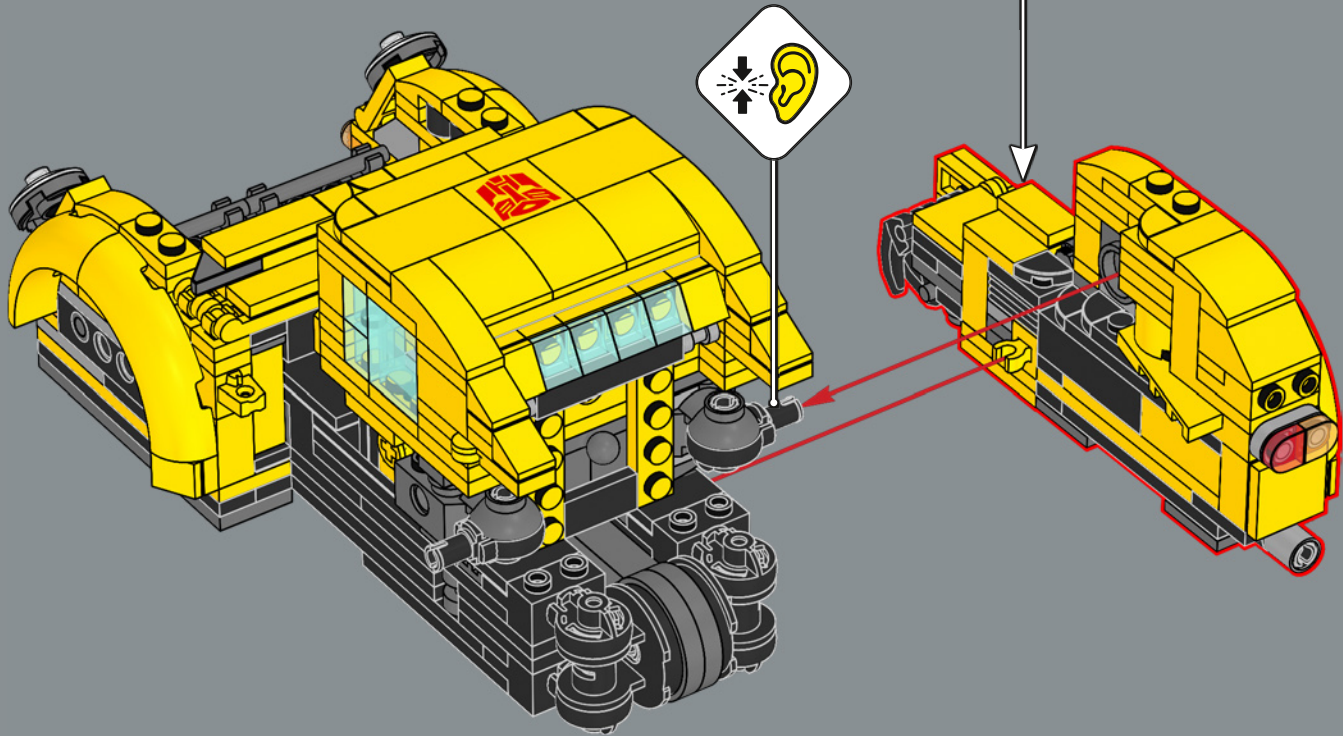

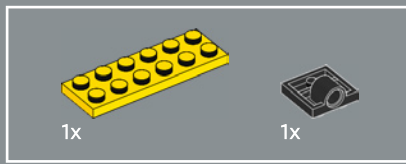

190

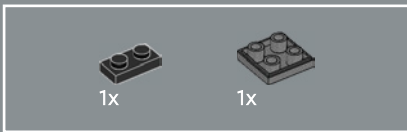

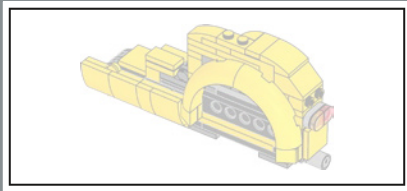

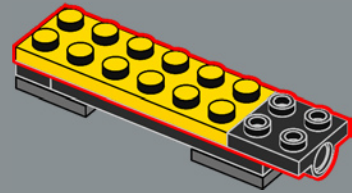

191

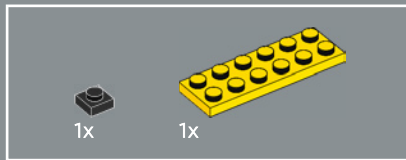

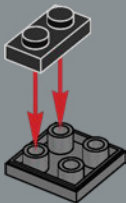

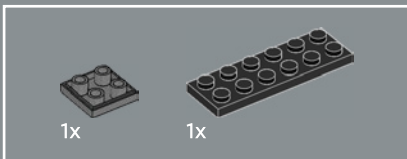

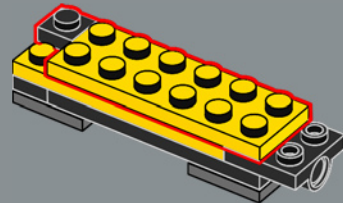

194

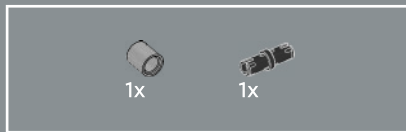

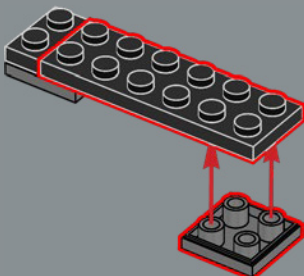

192

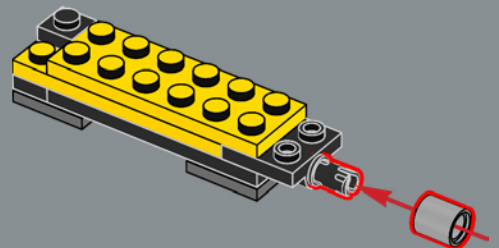

195

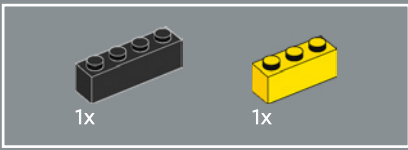

193

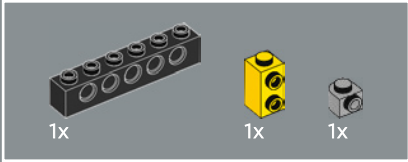

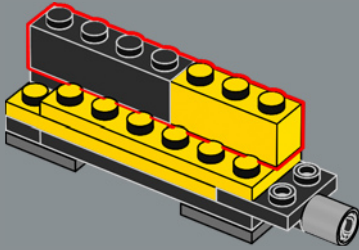

196

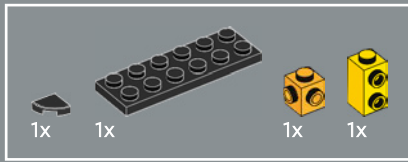

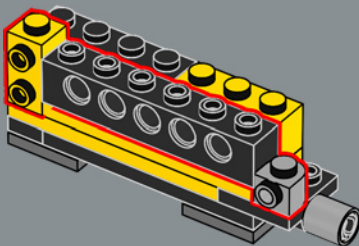

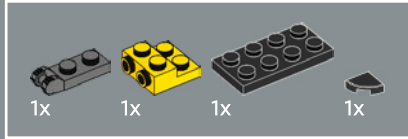

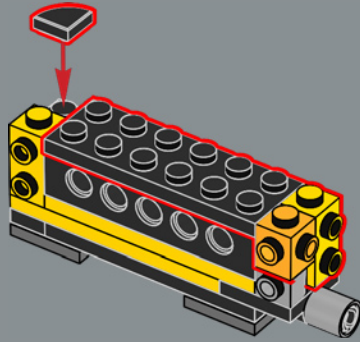

197

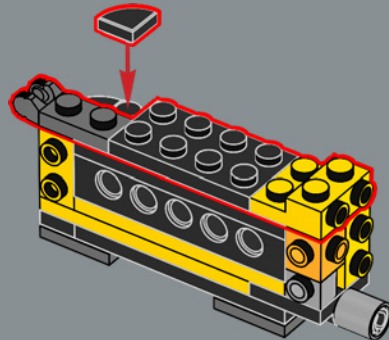

198

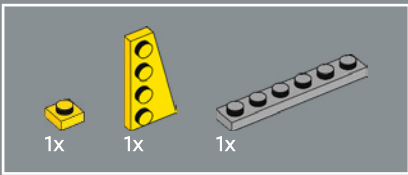

199

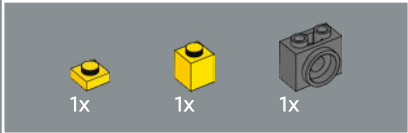

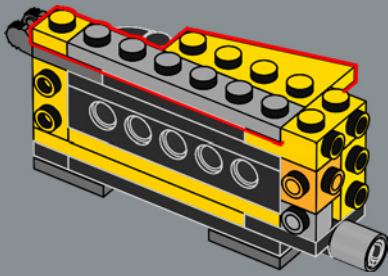

200

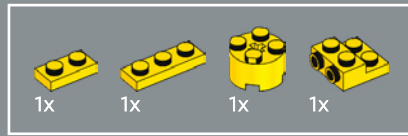

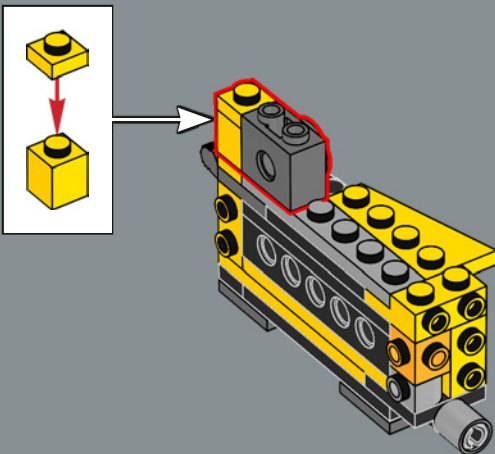

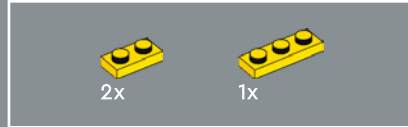

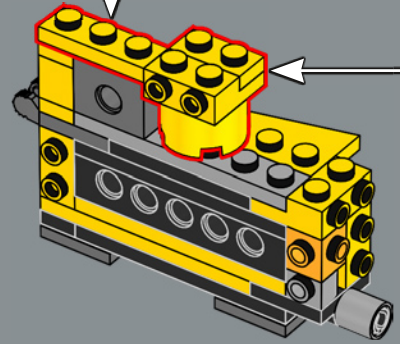

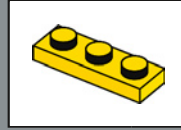

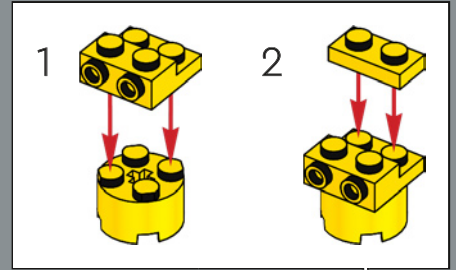

201

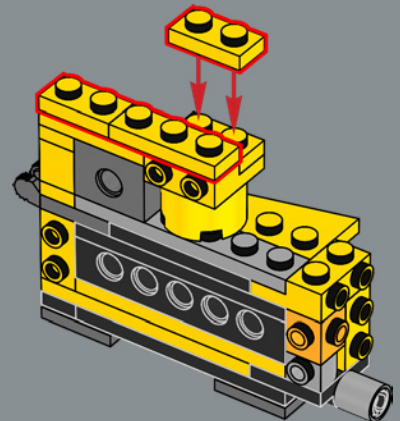

202

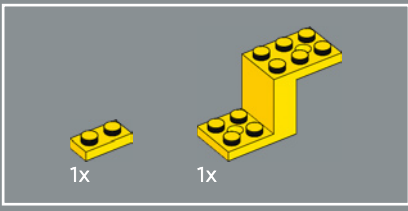

203

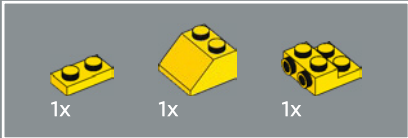

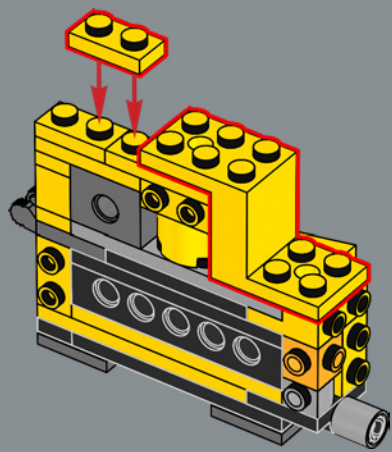

204

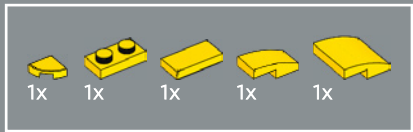

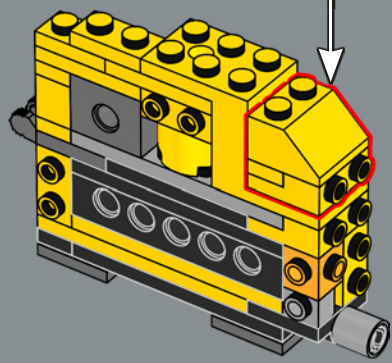

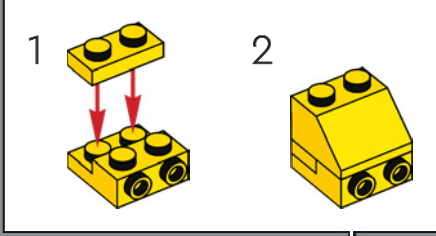

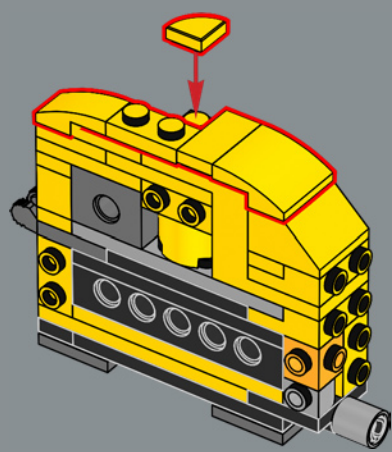

205

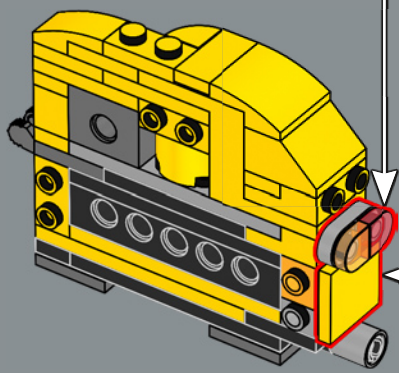

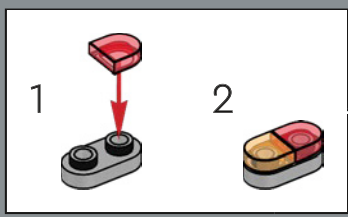

206

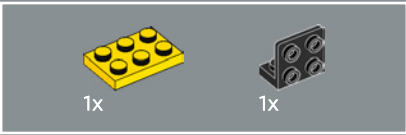

207

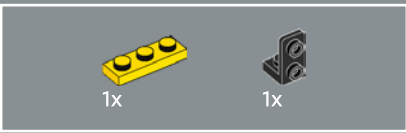

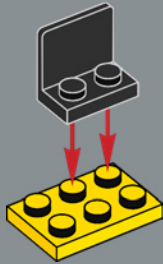

208

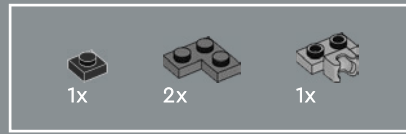

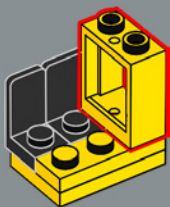

209

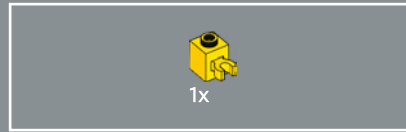

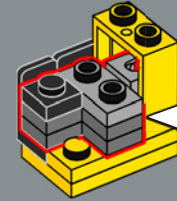

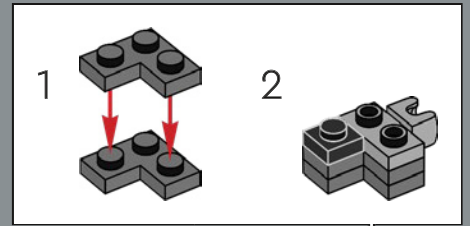

210

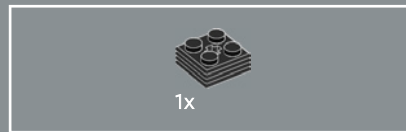

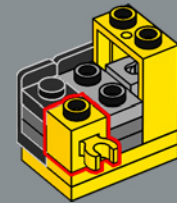

211

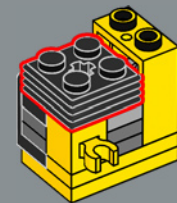

212

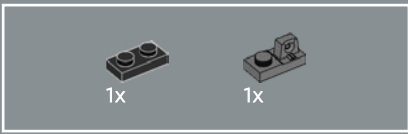

213

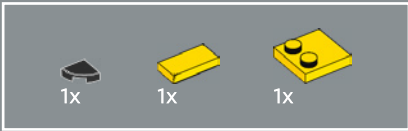

214

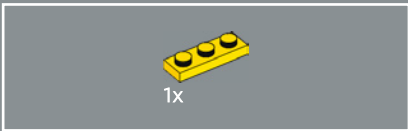

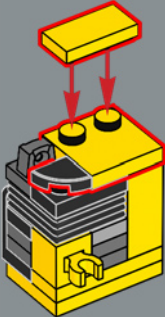

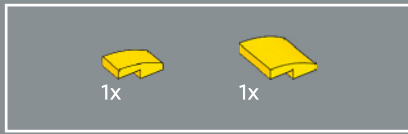

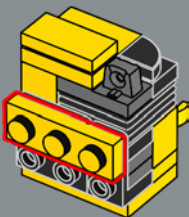

215

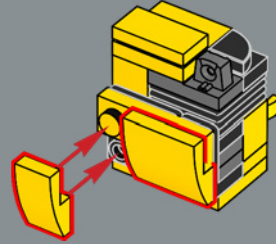

216

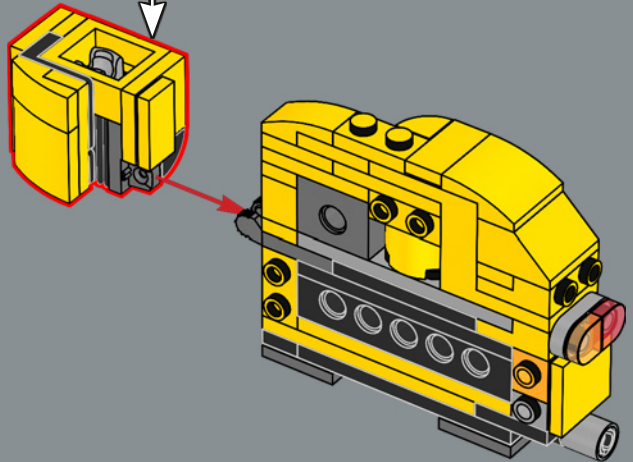

217

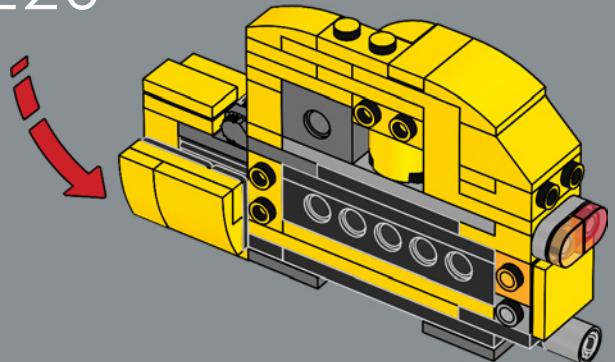

218

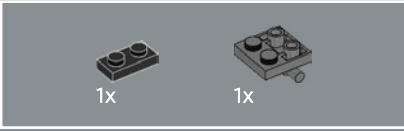

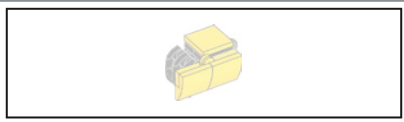

219

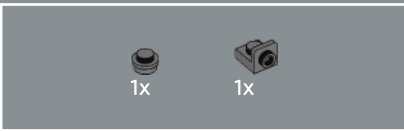

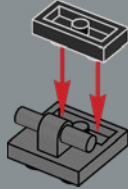

220

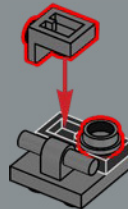

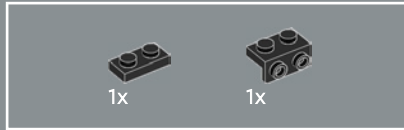

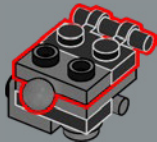

221

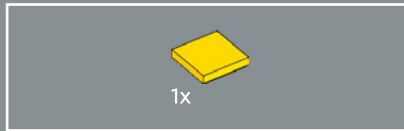

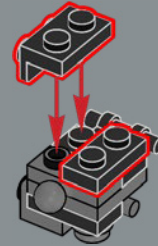

222

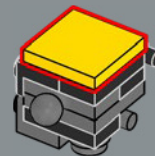

223

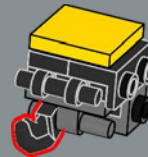

224

225

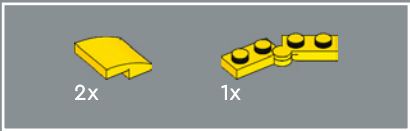

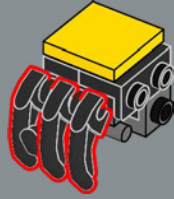

226

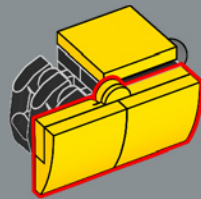

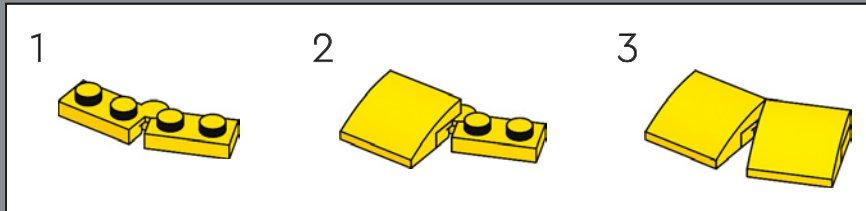

These horn-shaped elements made it possible to give Bumblebee posable fingers.

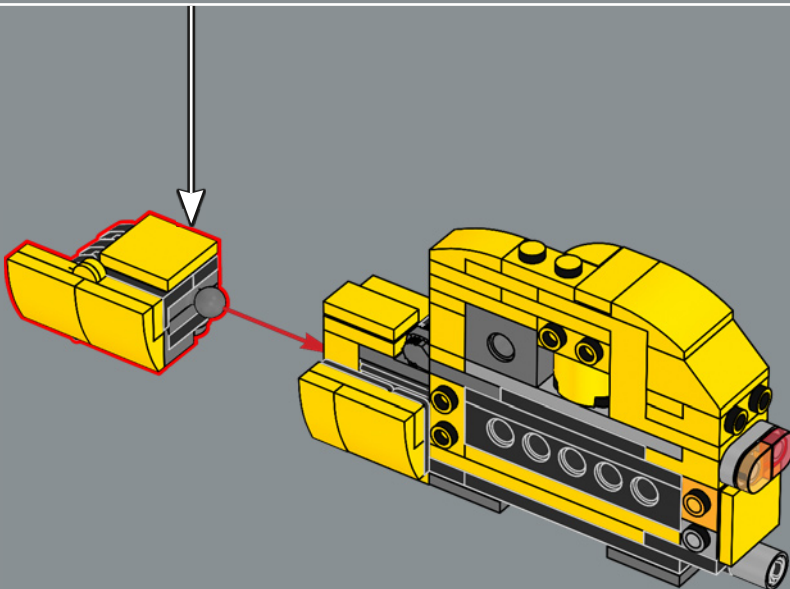

227

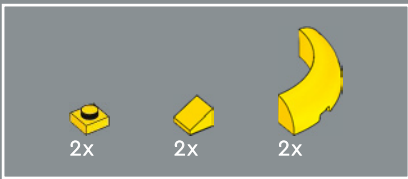

228

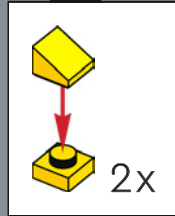

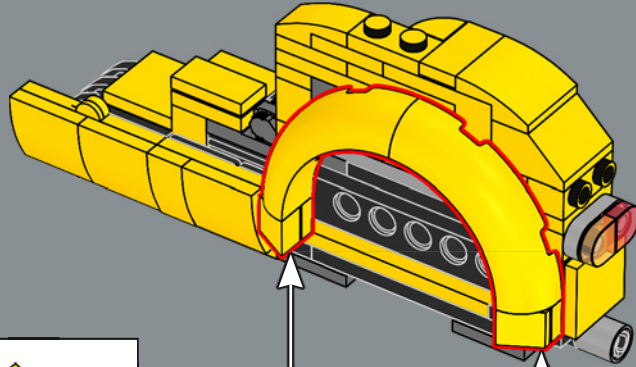

229

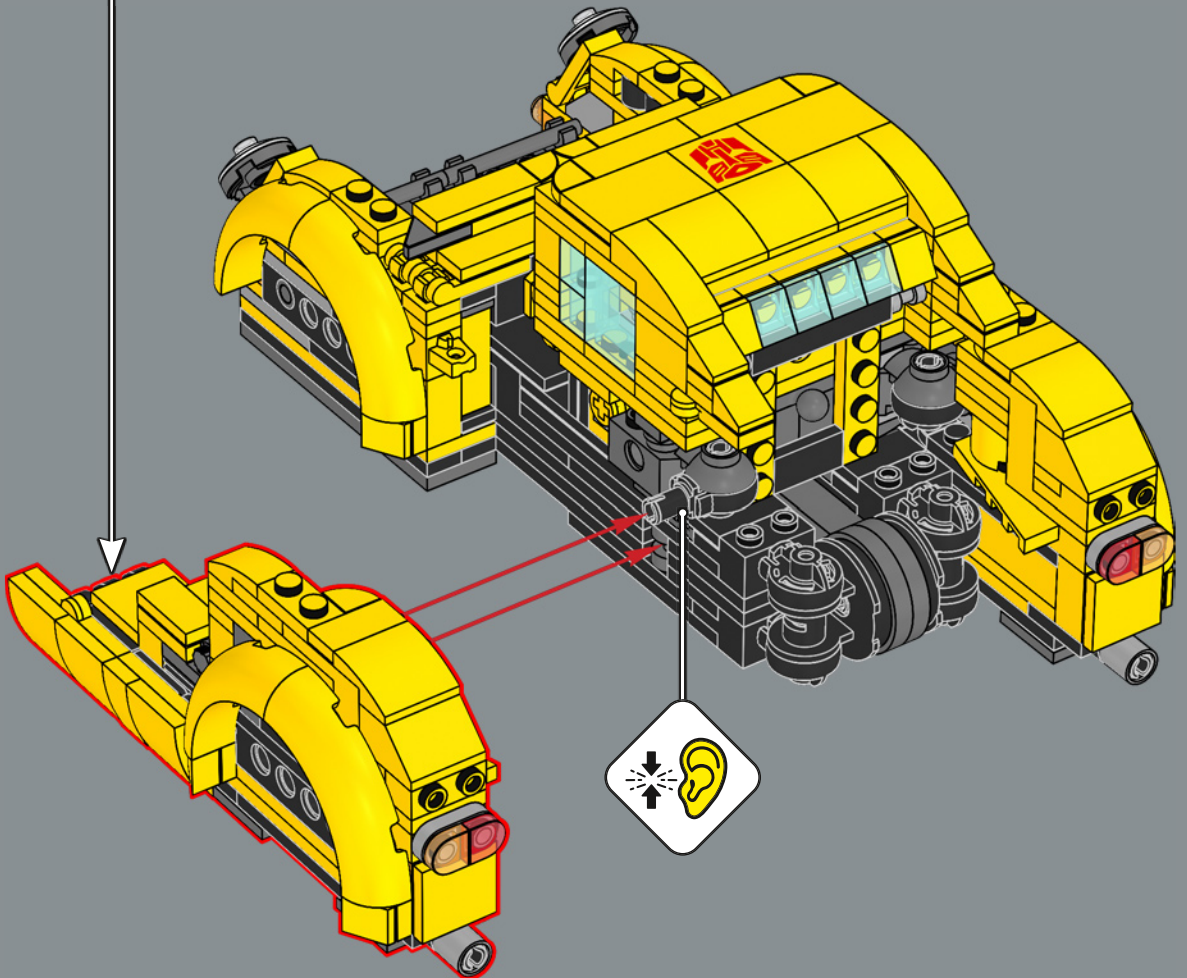

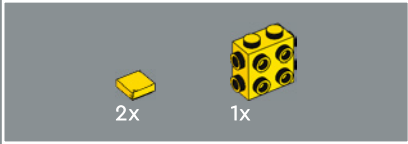

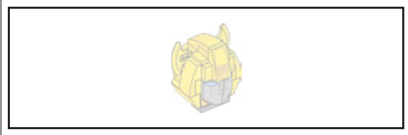

230

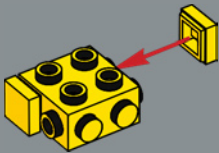

231

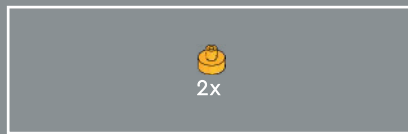

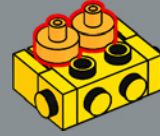

232

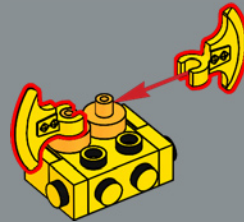

233

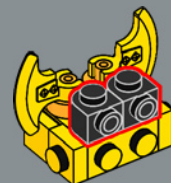

234

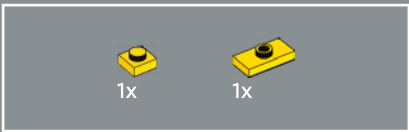

235

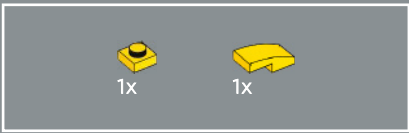

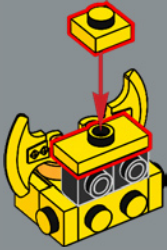

236

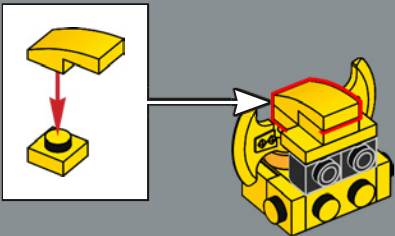

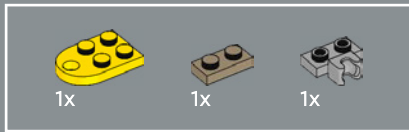

237

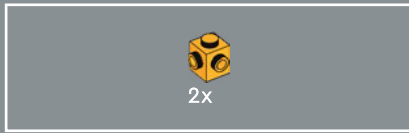

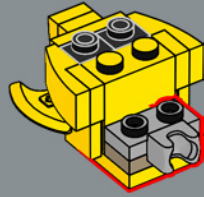

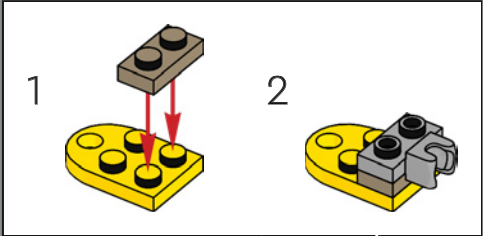

238

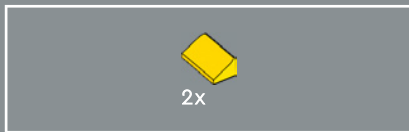

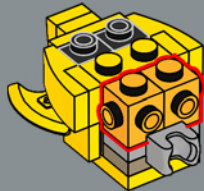

239

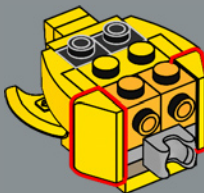

240

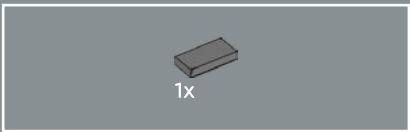

241

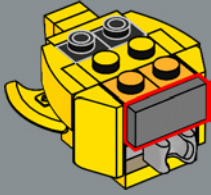

242

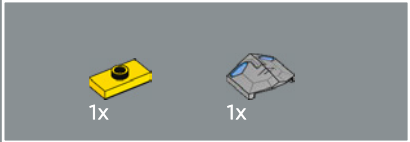

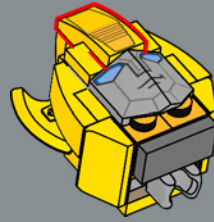

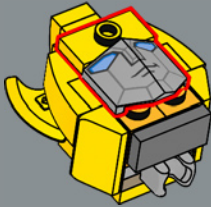

243

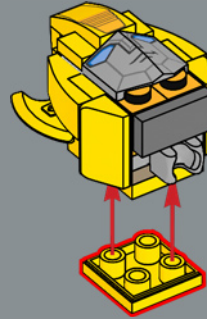

245

244

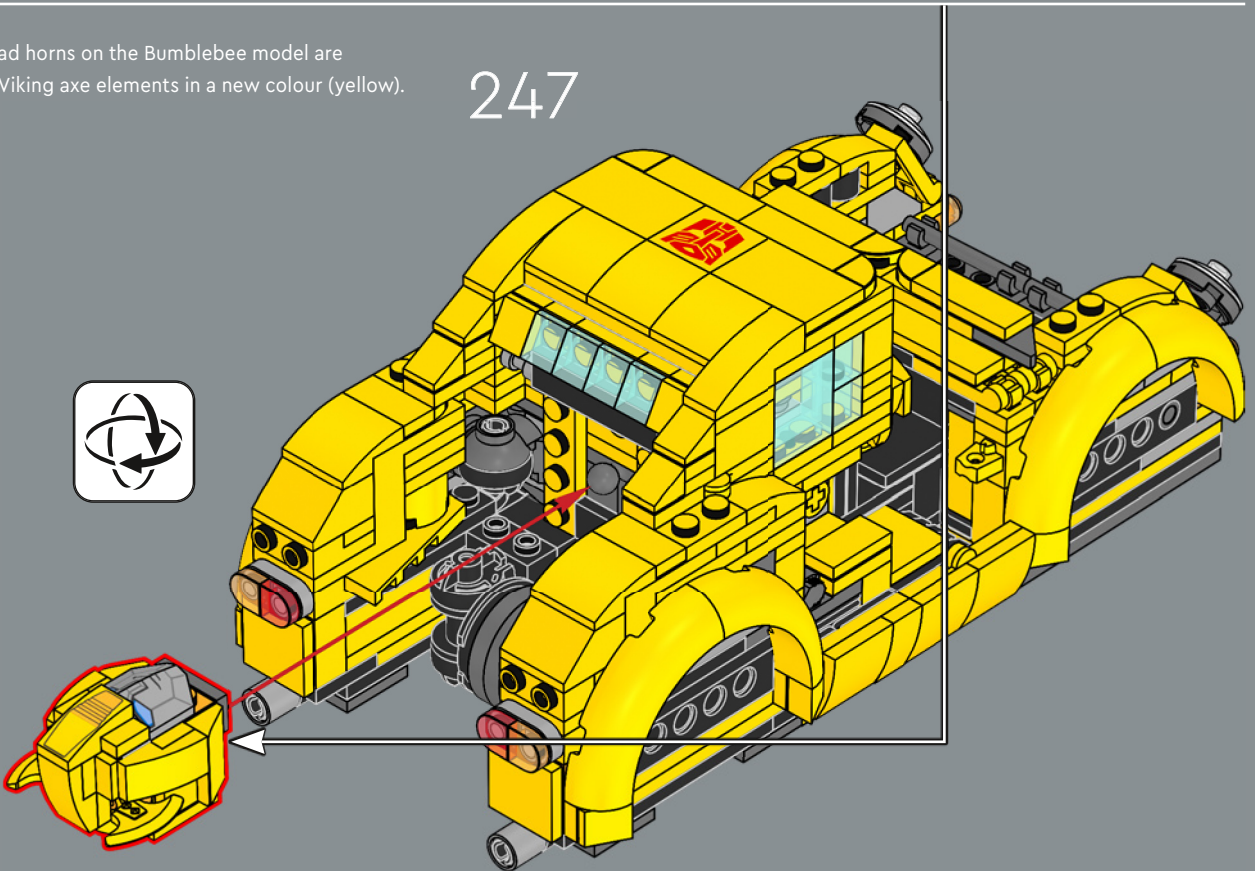

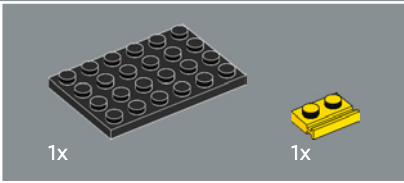

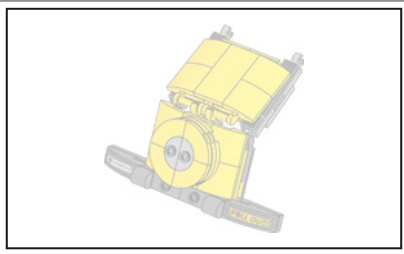

246

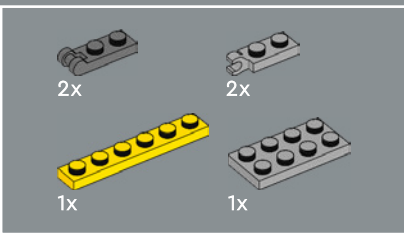

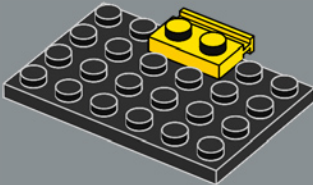

The head horns on the Bumblebee model are LEGO® Viking axe elements in a new colour (yellow).

247

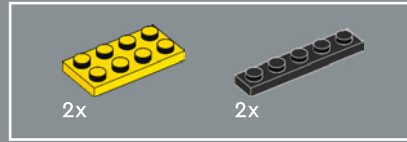

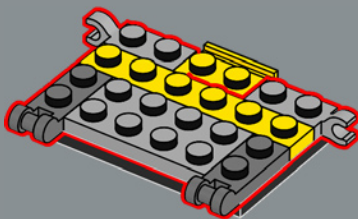

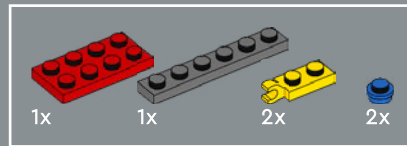

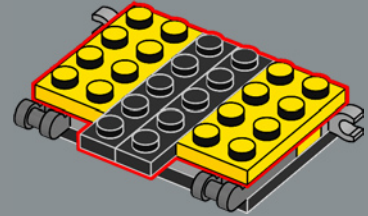

248

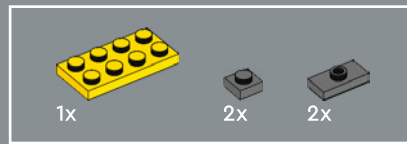

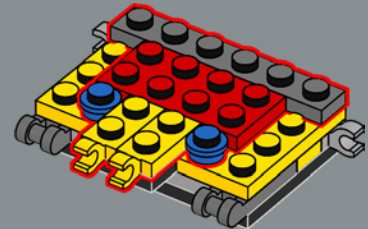

249

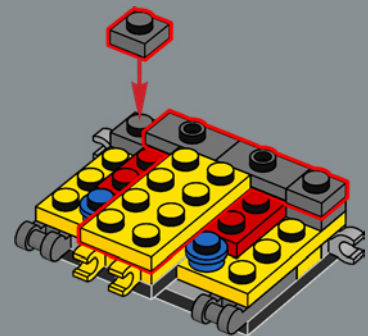

250

251

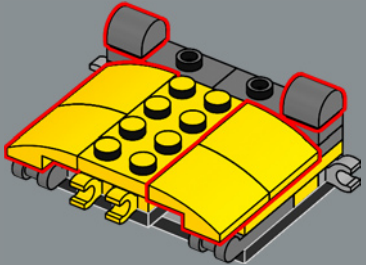

252

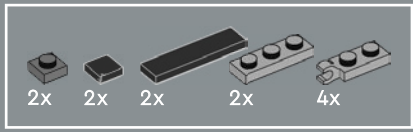

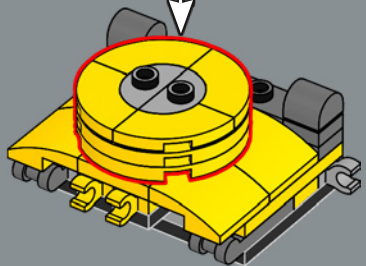

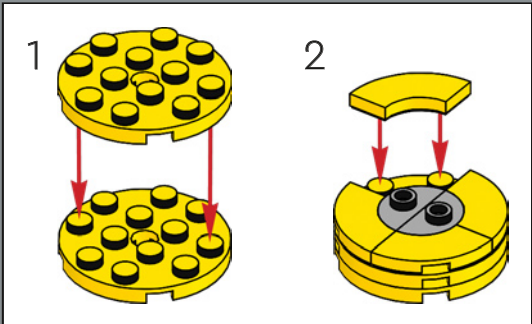

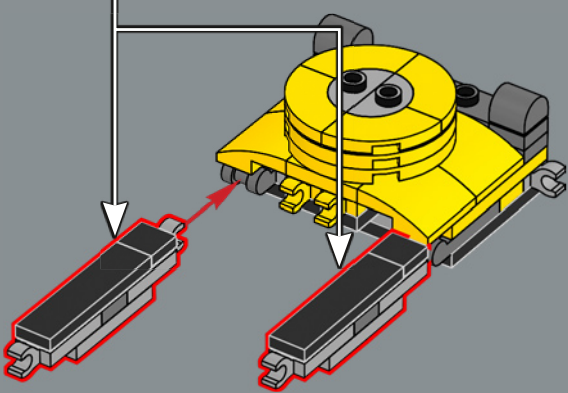

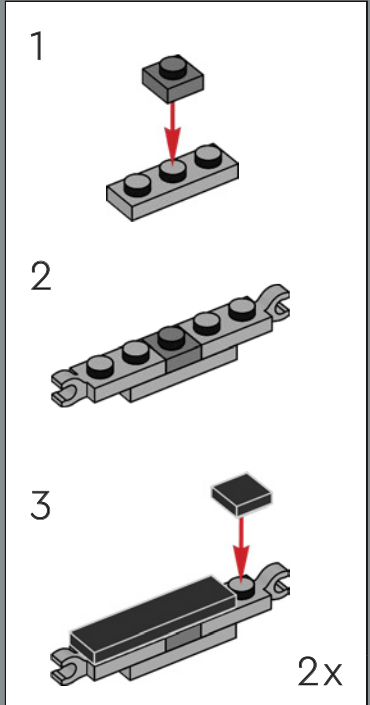

253

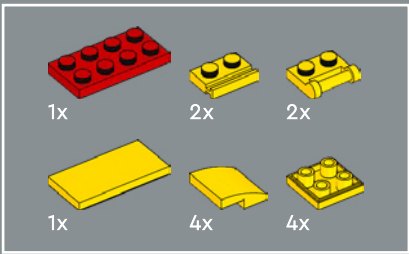

254

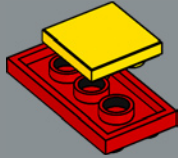

255

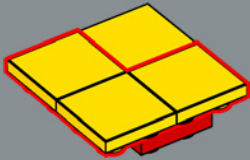

256

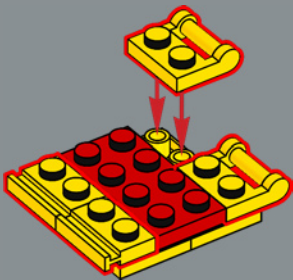

1

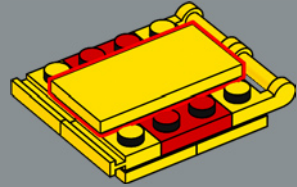

2

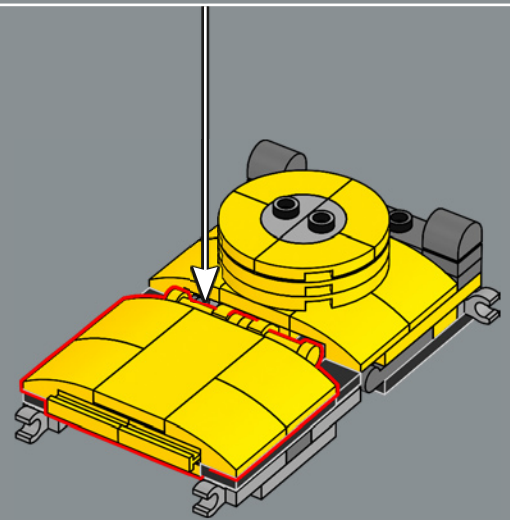

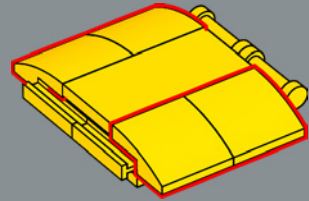

3

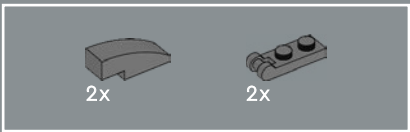

4

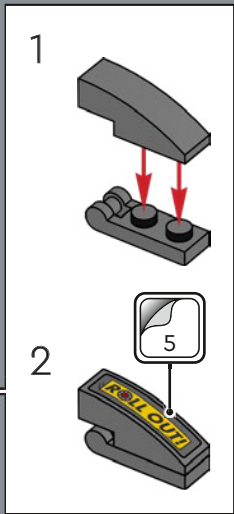

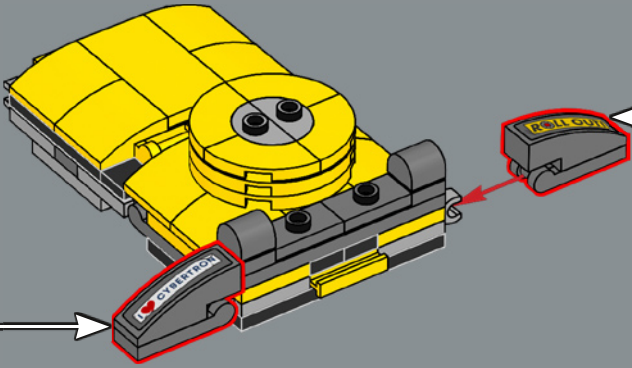

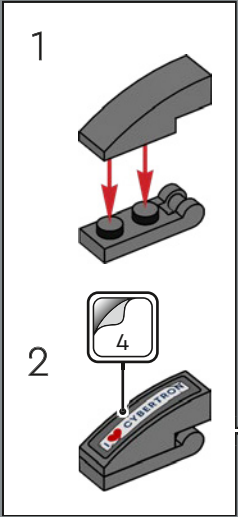

5

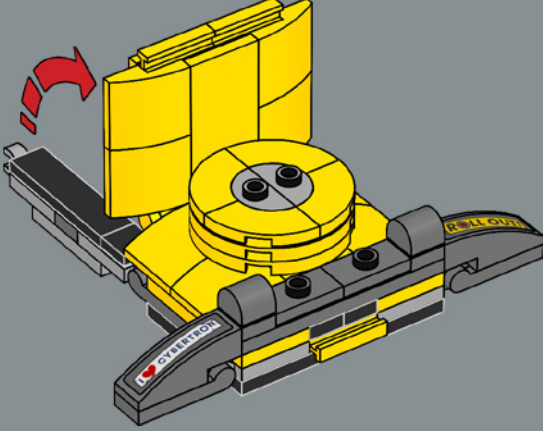

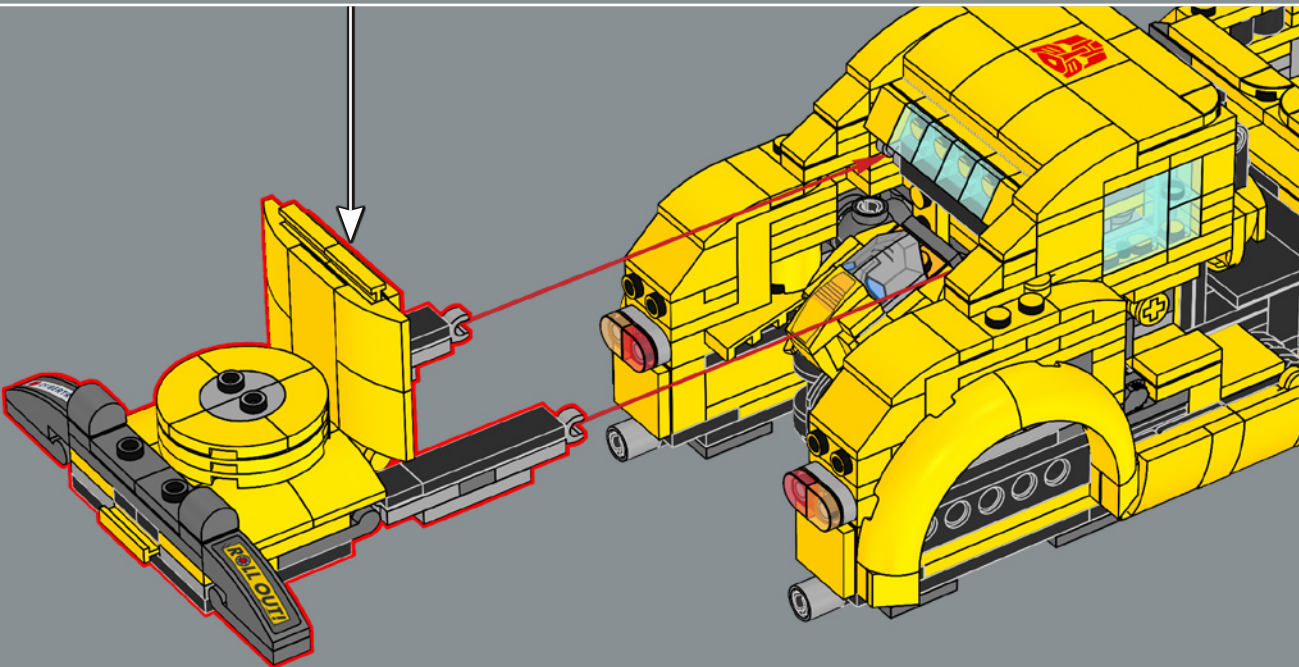

257

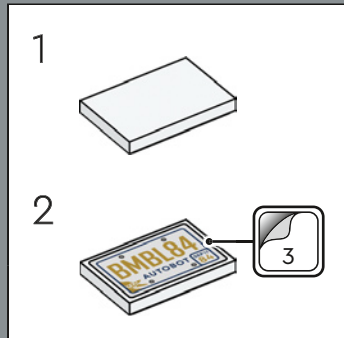

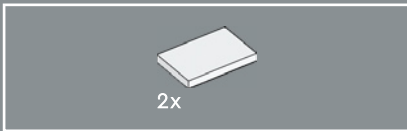

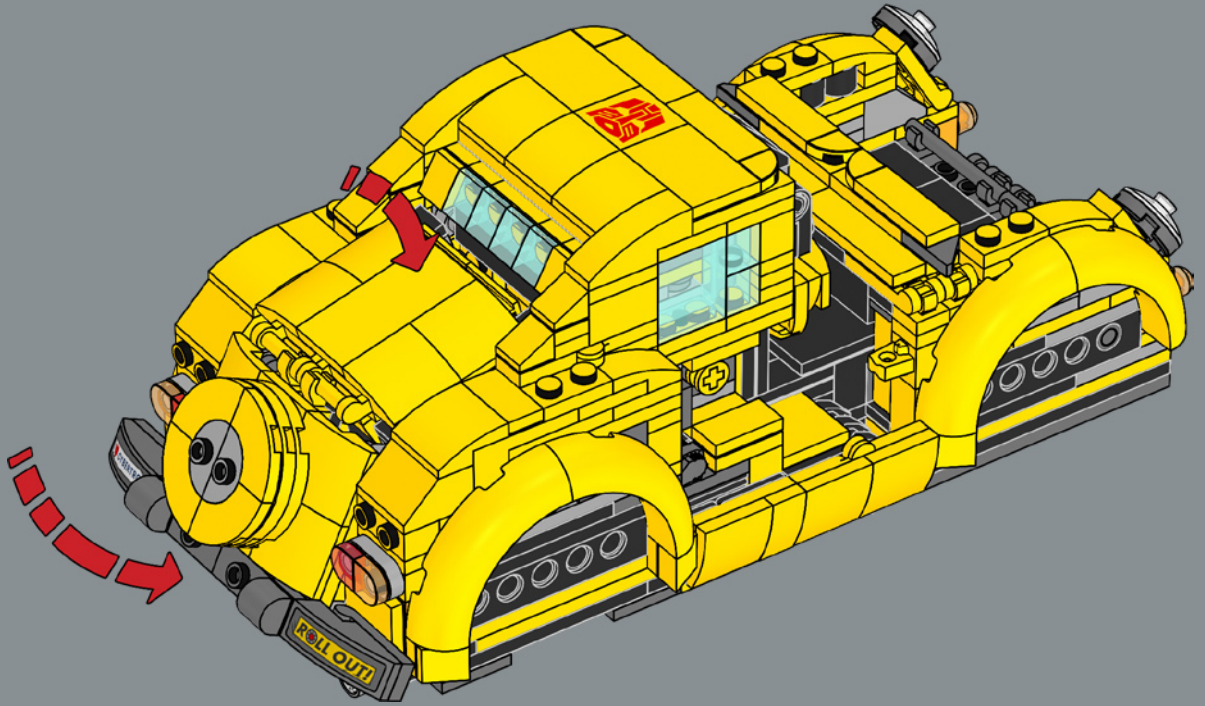

258

259

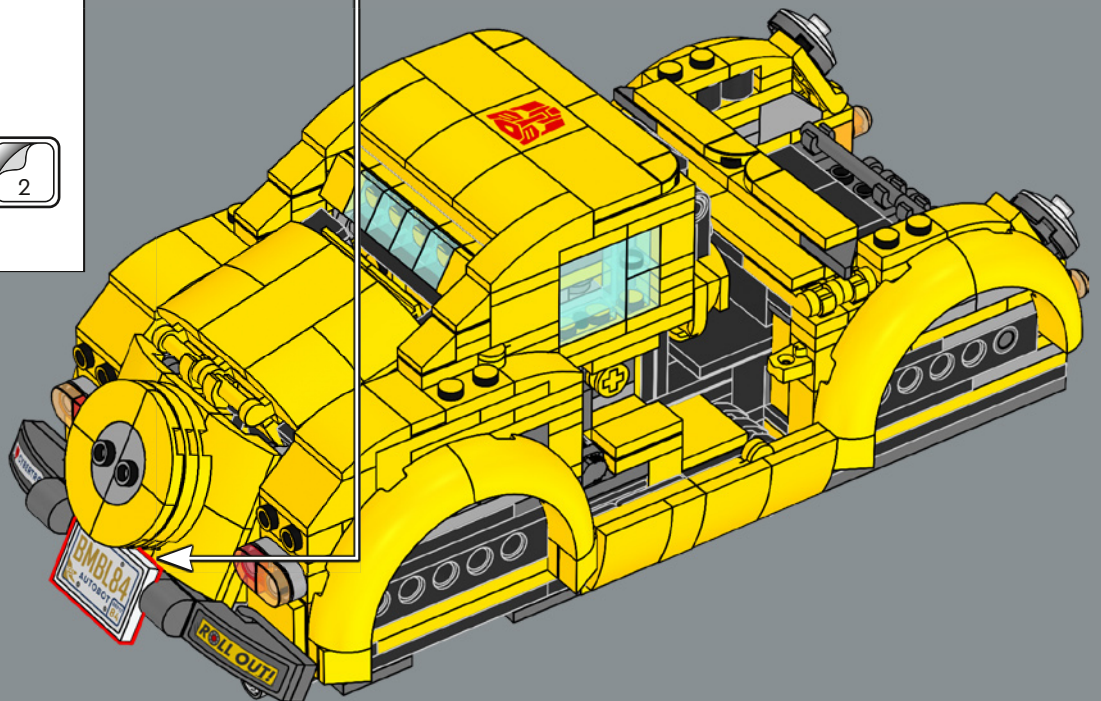

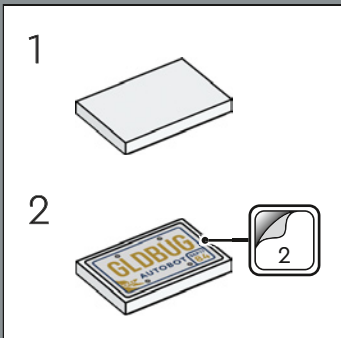

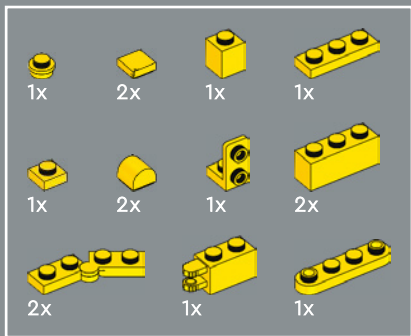

260

The Bumblebee model comes with two alternate number plates: 'BMBL84' as a reference to the 1984 cartoon, and 'GLDBUG', referring to his Goldbug rebuild in the story.

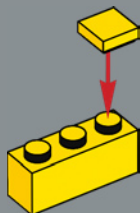

261

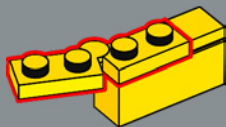

262

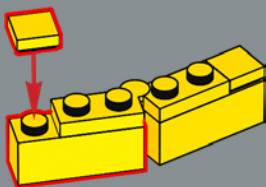

1

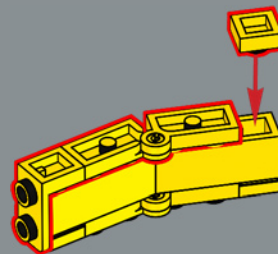

2

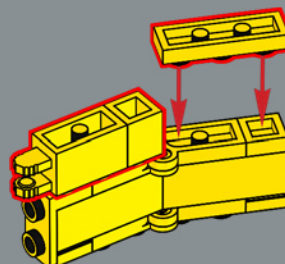

3

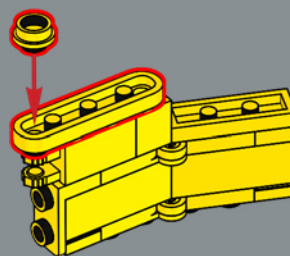

4

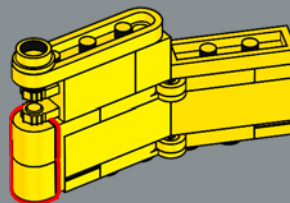

5

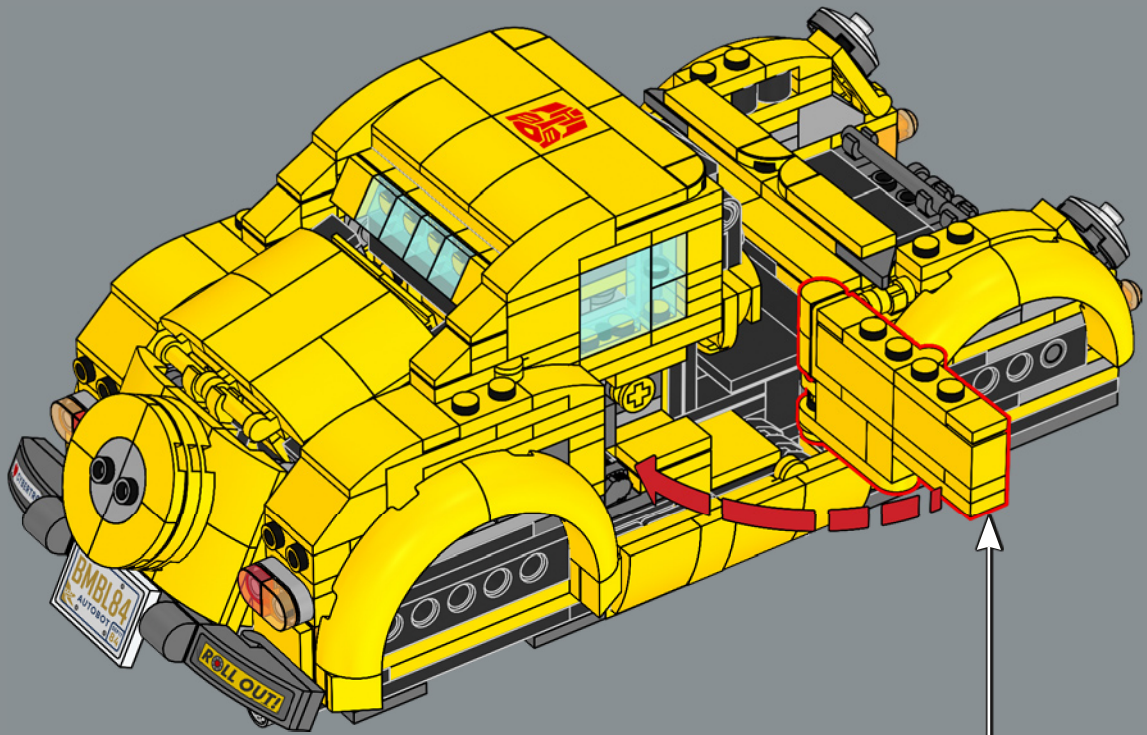

6

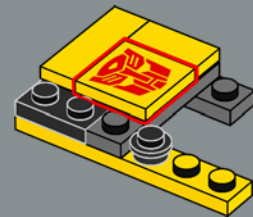

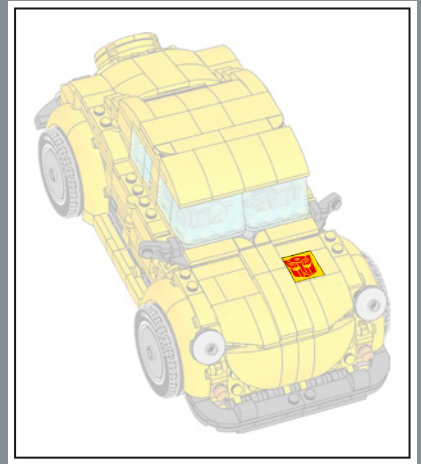

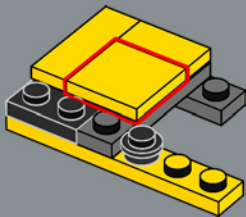

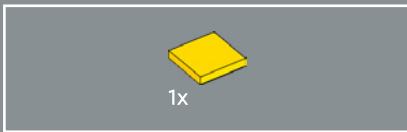

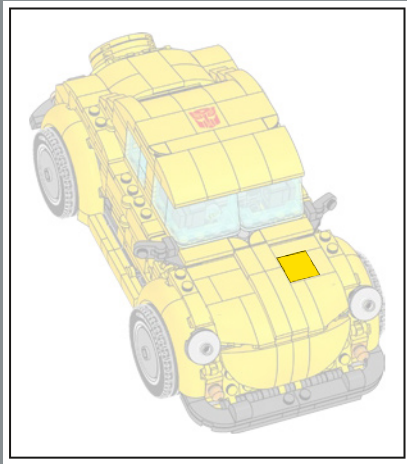

7

The bumper stickers are there to show the street-smart attitude of Bumblebee. He has 'I <3 Cybertron' (his home planet) and 'Roll Out' (the signature catchphrase of Optimus Prime). The 'O' in 'Roll' has a detail reminiscent of the original Bumblebee toy.

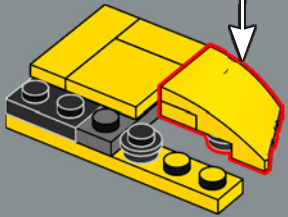

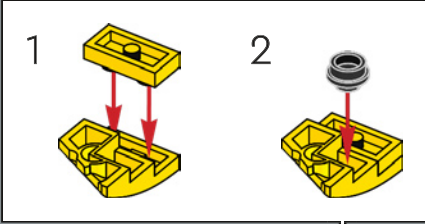

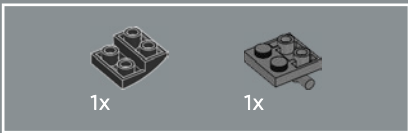

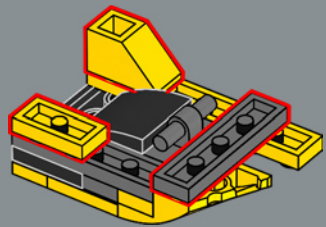

A new, decorated 2x2 yellow tile has the iconic AUTOBOT insignia. In the cartoon, the logo is sometimes seen on the bonnet when Bumblebee is in vehicle mode.

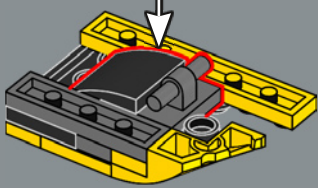

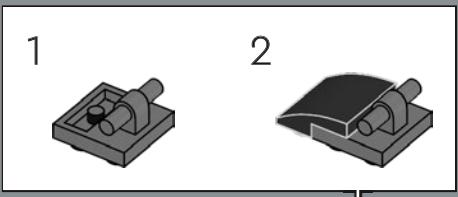

269

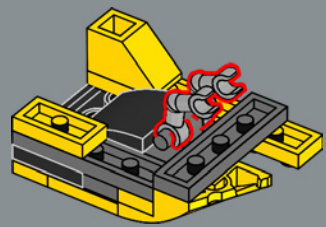

271

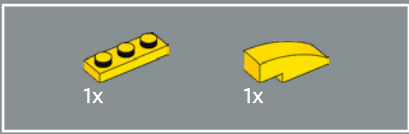

270

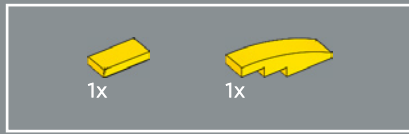

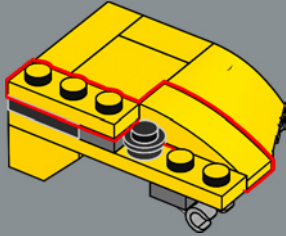

272

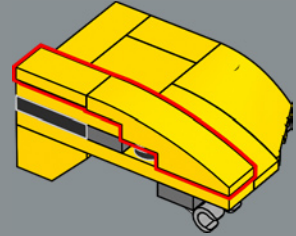

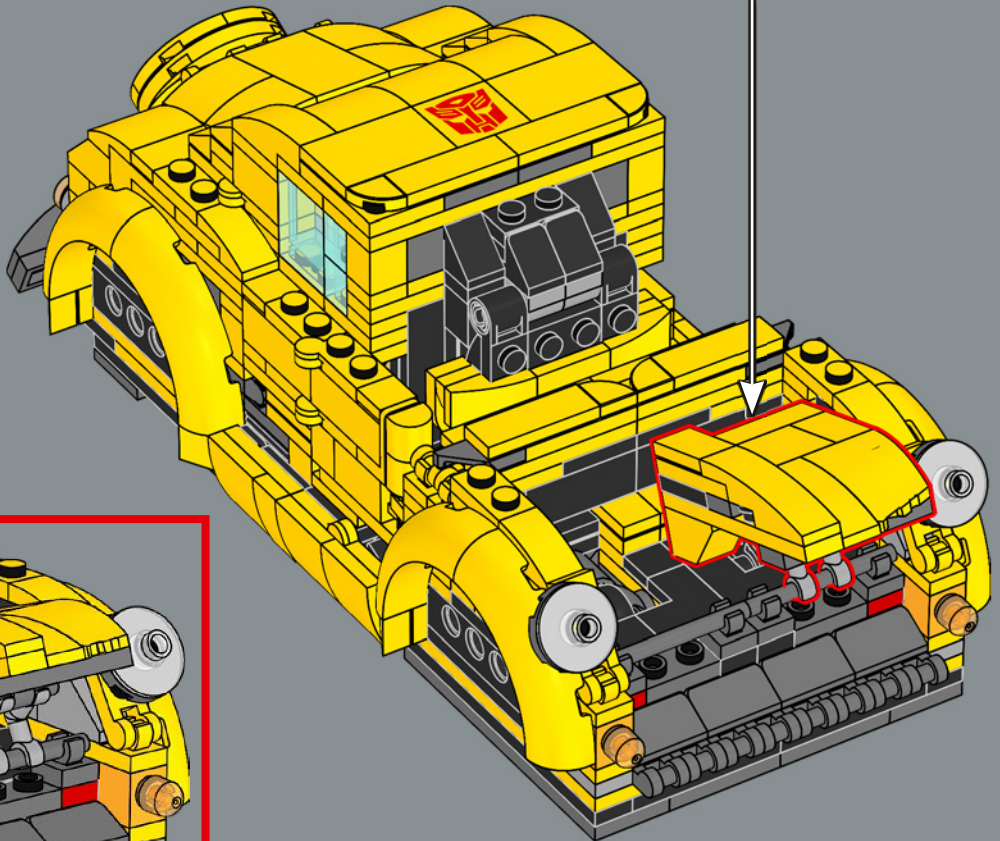

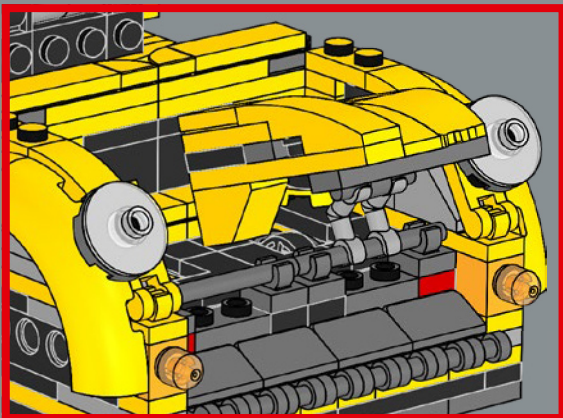

273

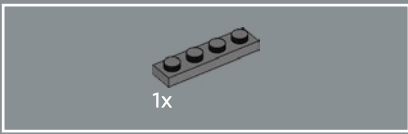

274

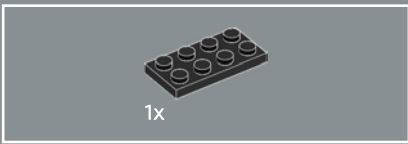

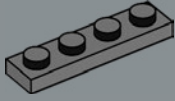

275

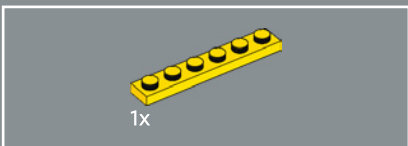

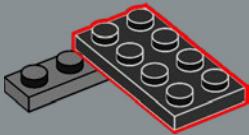

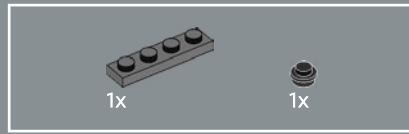

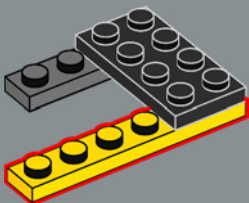

276

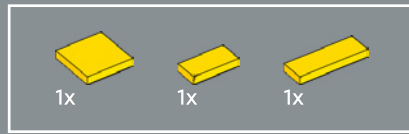

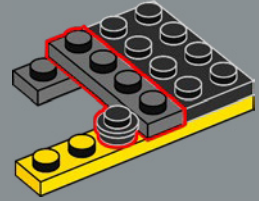

277

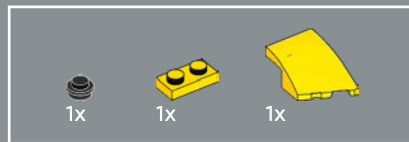

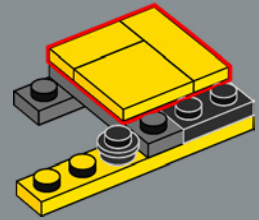

278

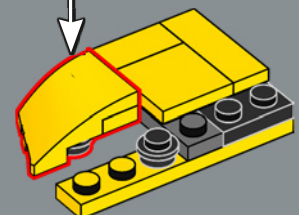

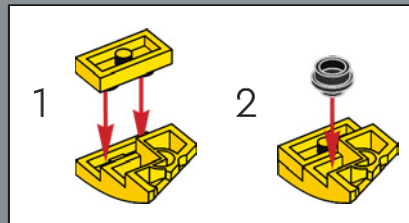

279

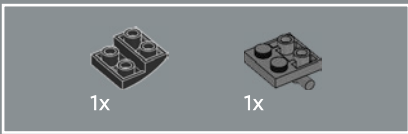

280

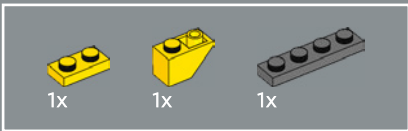

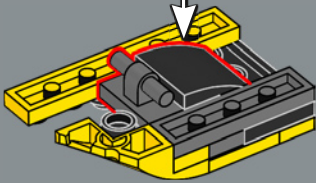

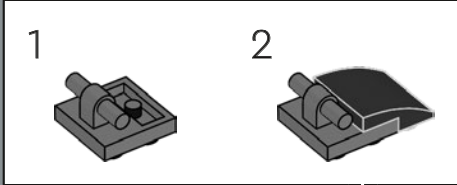

281

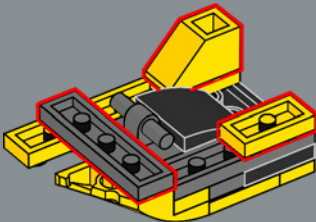

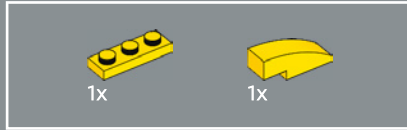

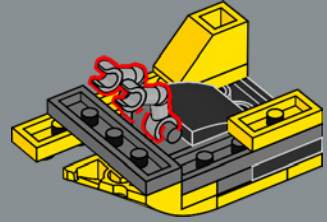

282

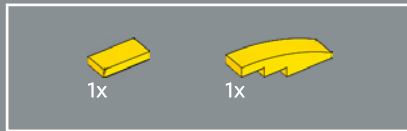

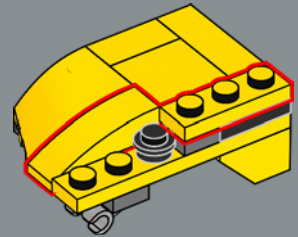

283

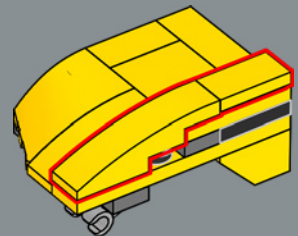

284

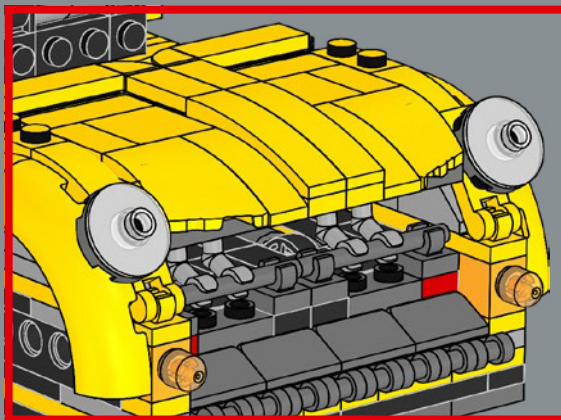

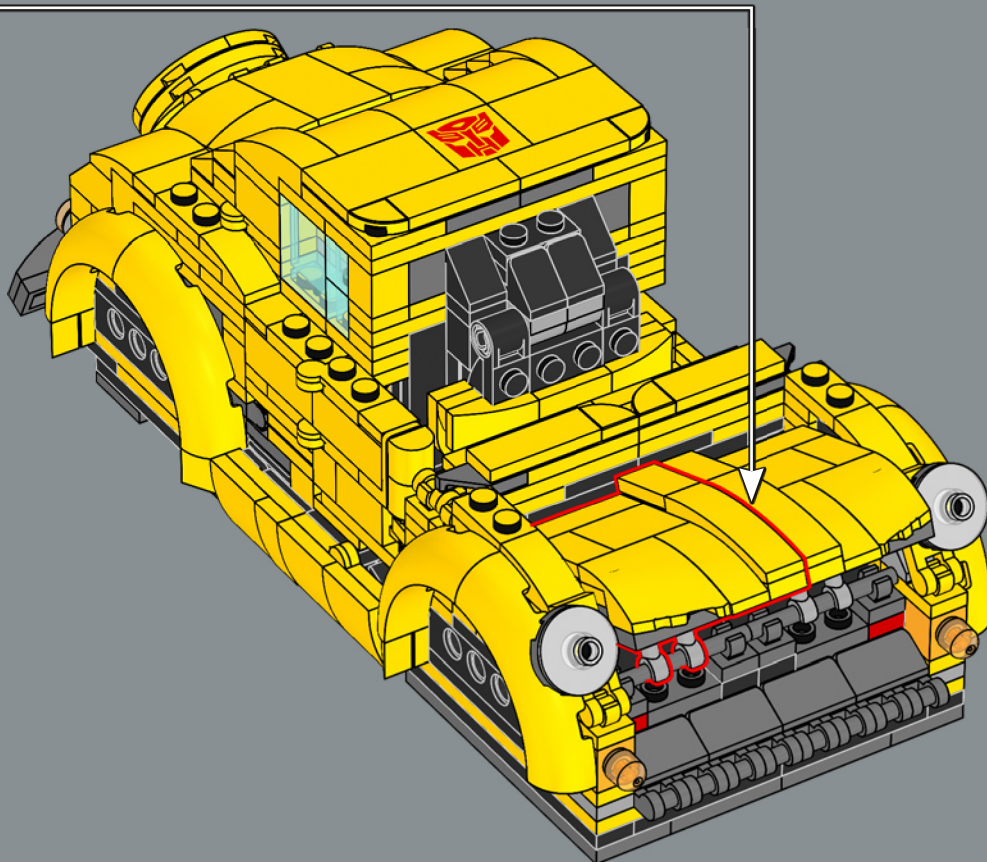

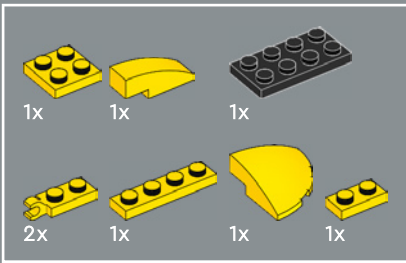

285

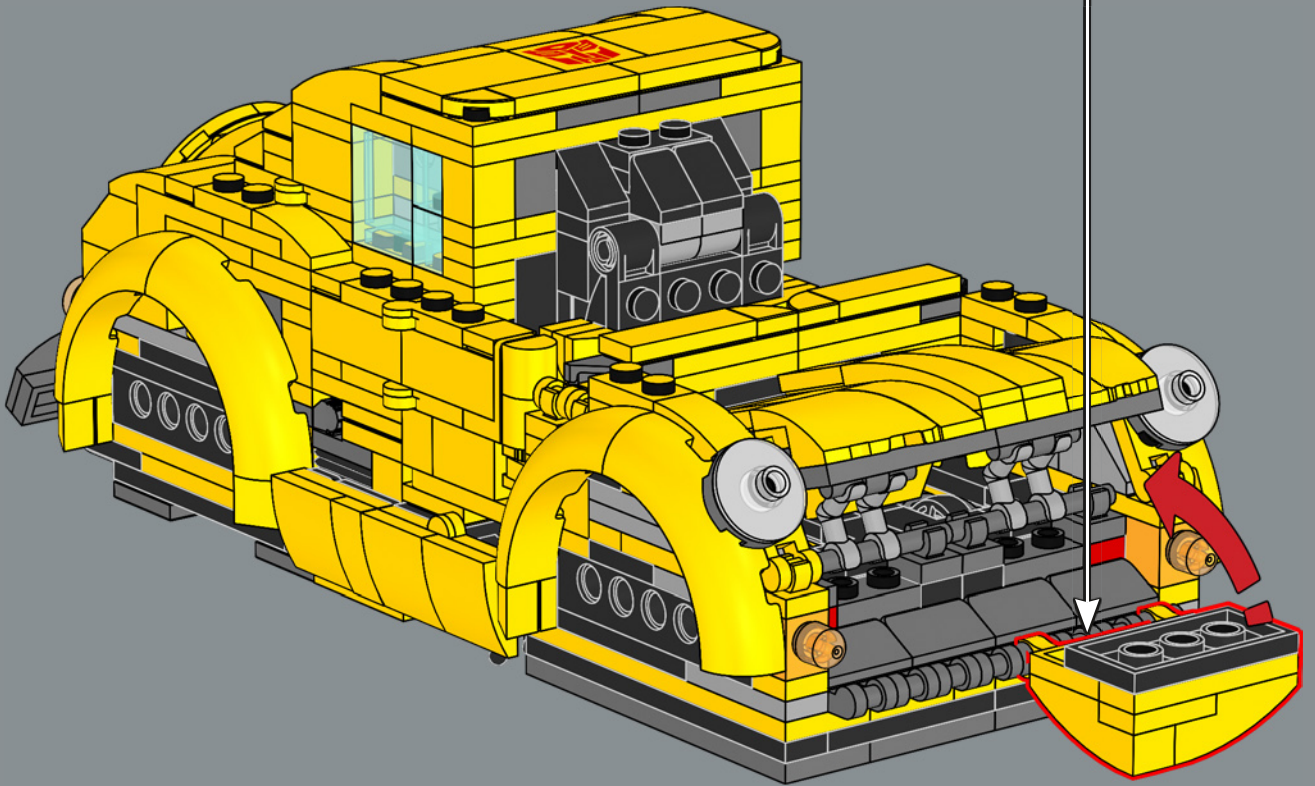

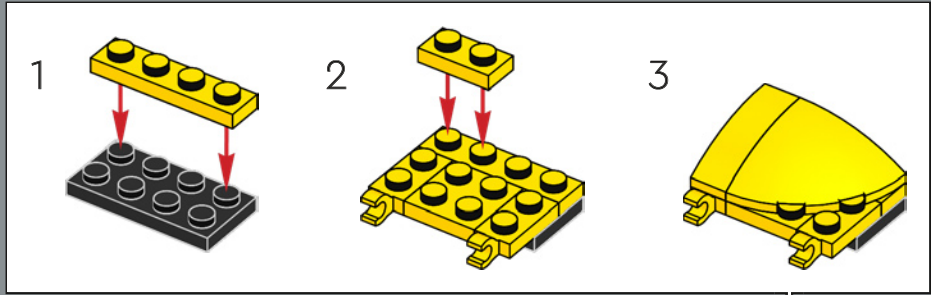

286

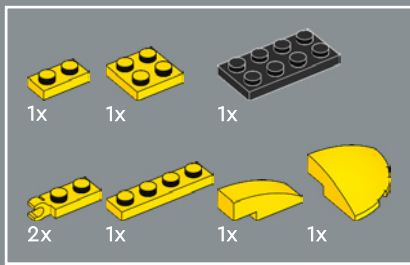

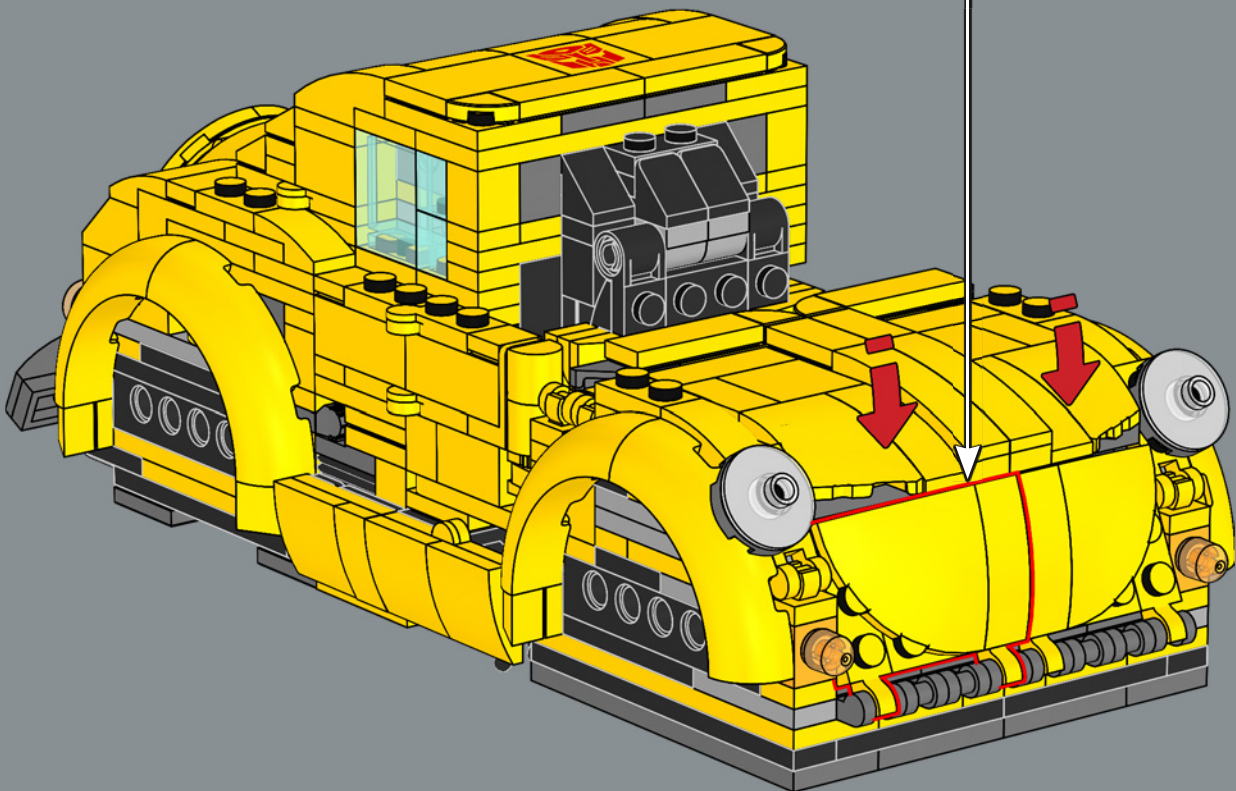

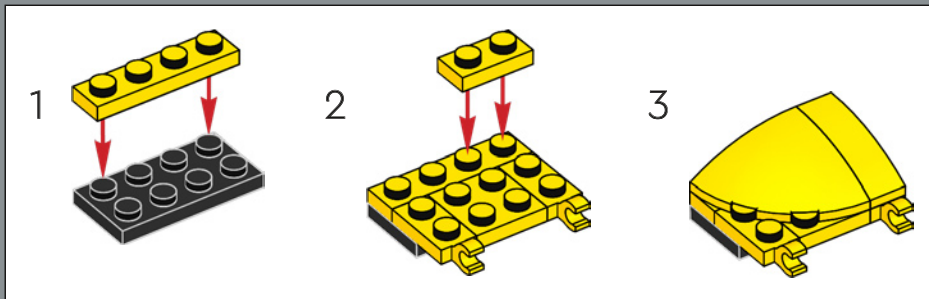

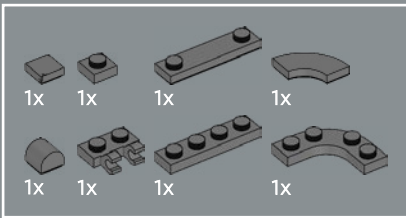

288

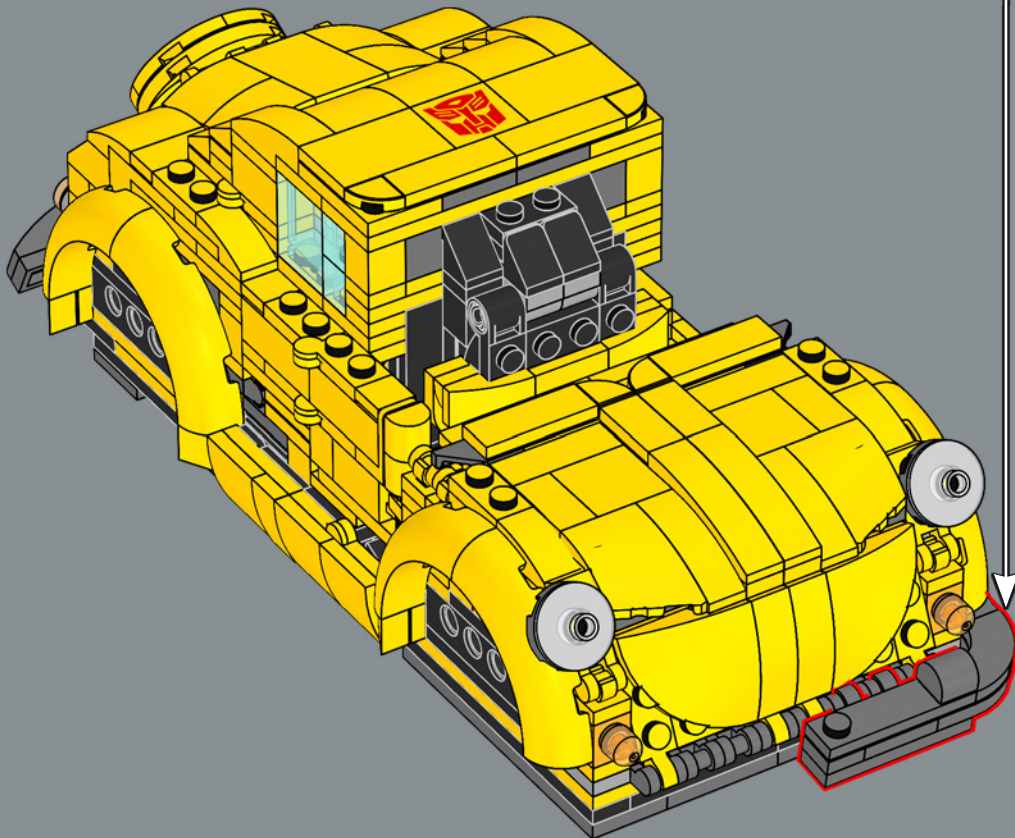

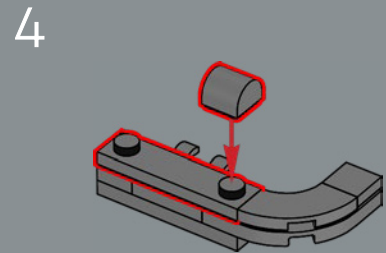

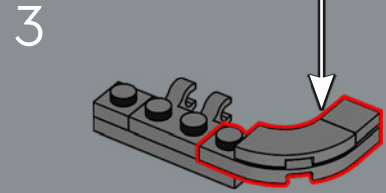

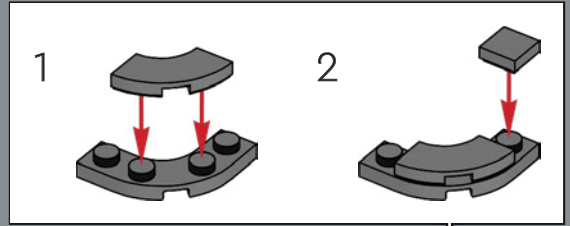

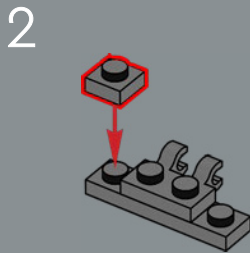

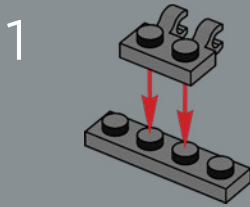

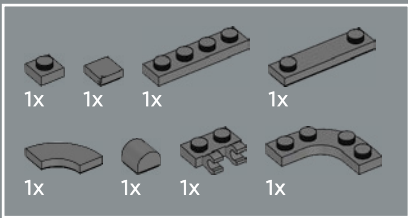

289

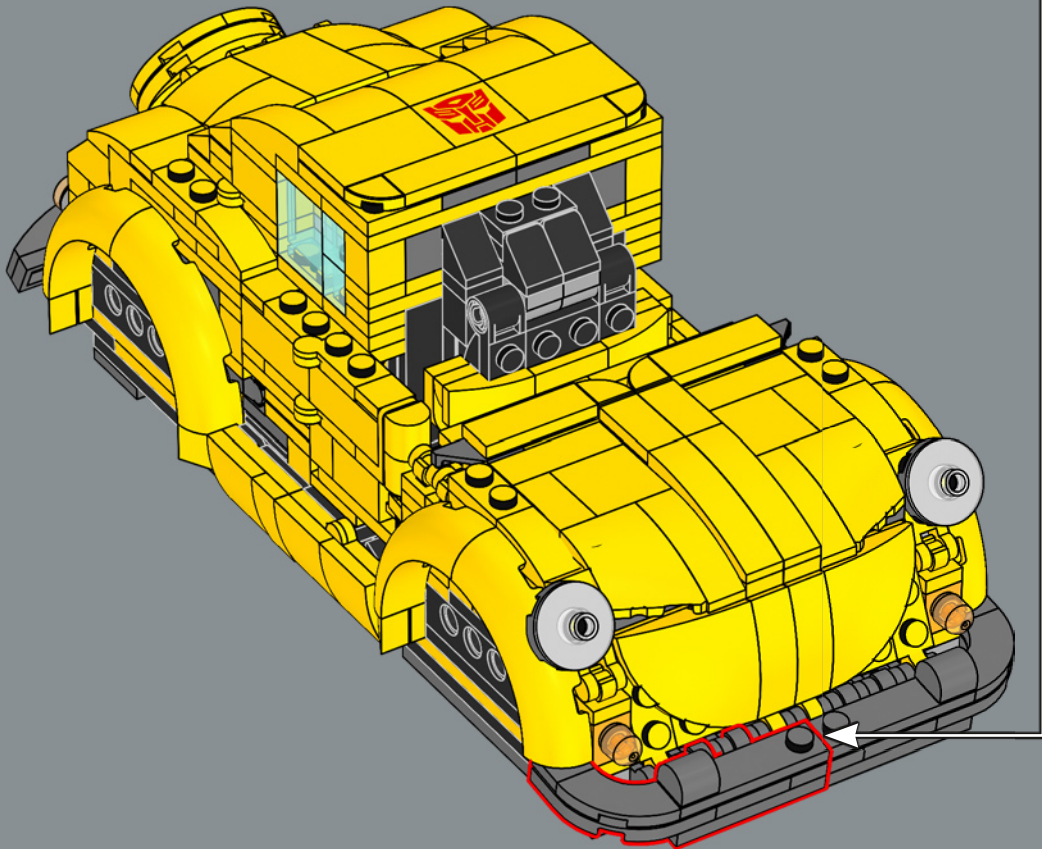

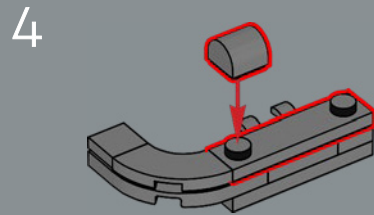

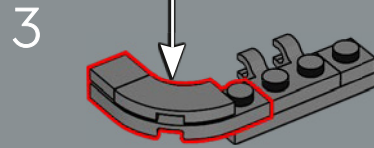

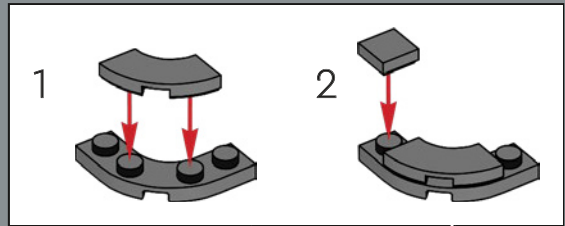

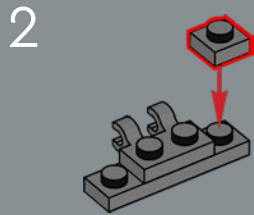

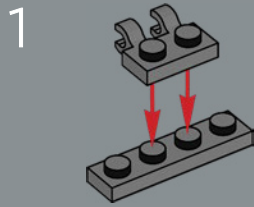

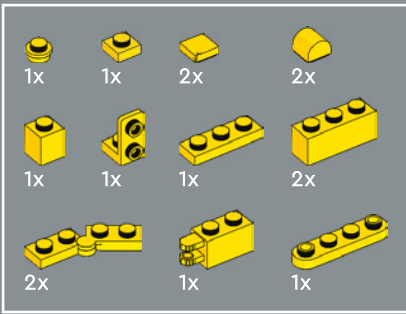

290

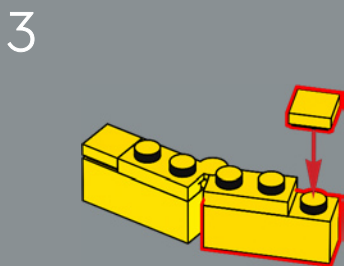

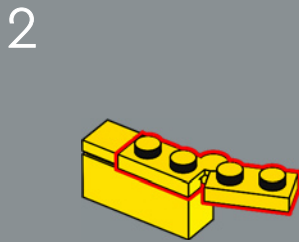

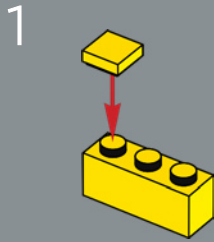

291

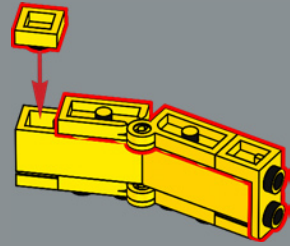

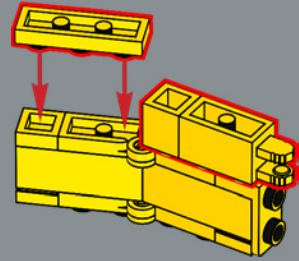

292

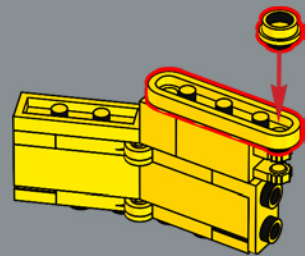

4

5

6

7

